AN ORDINARY DAY AT CHSN?

If we had to weather the drudgery of school, tests, and assignments day in and day out with no break, we'd break. But everyone knows that, so we help move the routine along by creating specialty days here at school. Cap Day, Hat Day, Purple and Gold Day, Punk Day, Flower Day, College Sweatshirt

*Day. Days like these make the year tolerable — make us feel that we belong. And even during the doldrum days, there's always a chance for someone to sneak in a Slob Day, Cut Day, or Torture Your Teacher Day, while others plan for Dress Up Day, Moving Up Day, and GRADUATION DAY!

Where the heck is Heritage Hall?

With construction well underway, students arriving to school at 8:00 A.M. found a challenge that we had not expected. Seniors, as well as Freshmen were lost! The buildings had not only taken on a new look, but they had also adopted new names. What CHSN has for years been calling the "Main" and the "Annex" had now been renamed "Heritage Hall" and "Carnsmuir House." To the students, "Heritage Hall" sounded more like a branch of the Smithsonian Institution than our school. Nevertheless, the Main by any other name is still the Main and it will always be UNMISTAKABLY NORTH!!

Living to jackhammers

Last year "Breaking" was the craze. This year it's the "Shuffle." The new craze — the new step — the new way the new way to get to class.

"Shuffle" between the buildings. Shuffle between classes. Shuffle between the rooms in Heritage Hall.

We did the shuffle to the jackhammers 8 times a day. And we tried to shuffle in four minutes or less. Even the best shufflers found this difficult.

They told us construction would be completed by September of '86. They also told us that we could make it to our classes in four minutes. And there's a jolly man in a red suit at the North Pole ...

Still, we knew that sooner or later just as we make it to class, construction will be done. Scaffolding will give way to sky lights and the work zone will become a school zone once again. In place will be a three story library, modern science labs, and an energy efficient auditorium.

*Our roof won't leak,
Our lockers won't jam,
Our windows will open and close*

*With the touch of a hand.
Utopia is around the corner,*

If we can survive the Shuffle

For a little while longer.

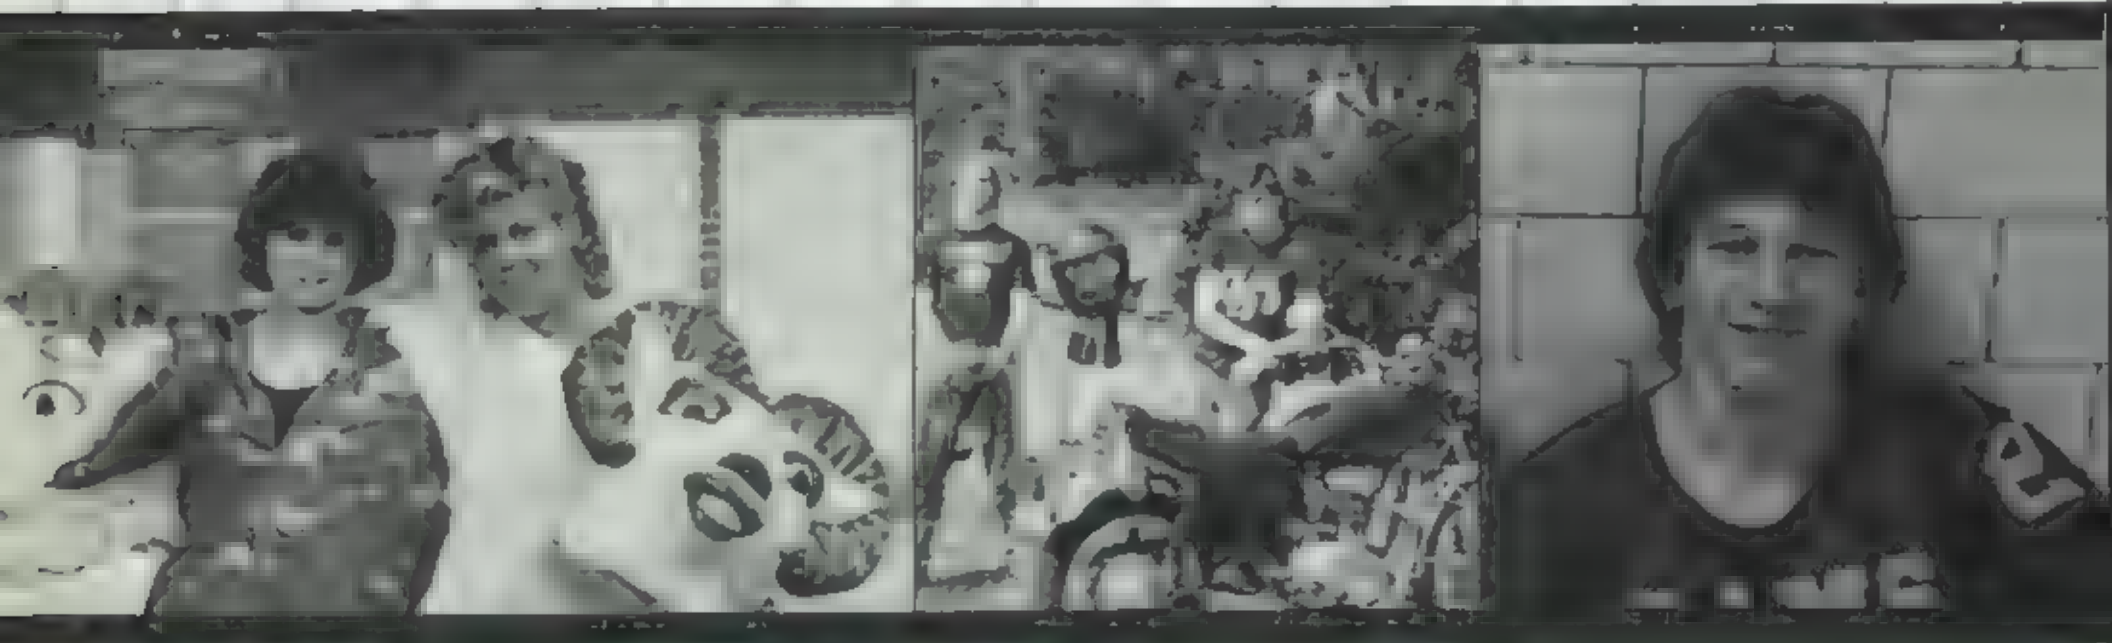

DEDICA- TION

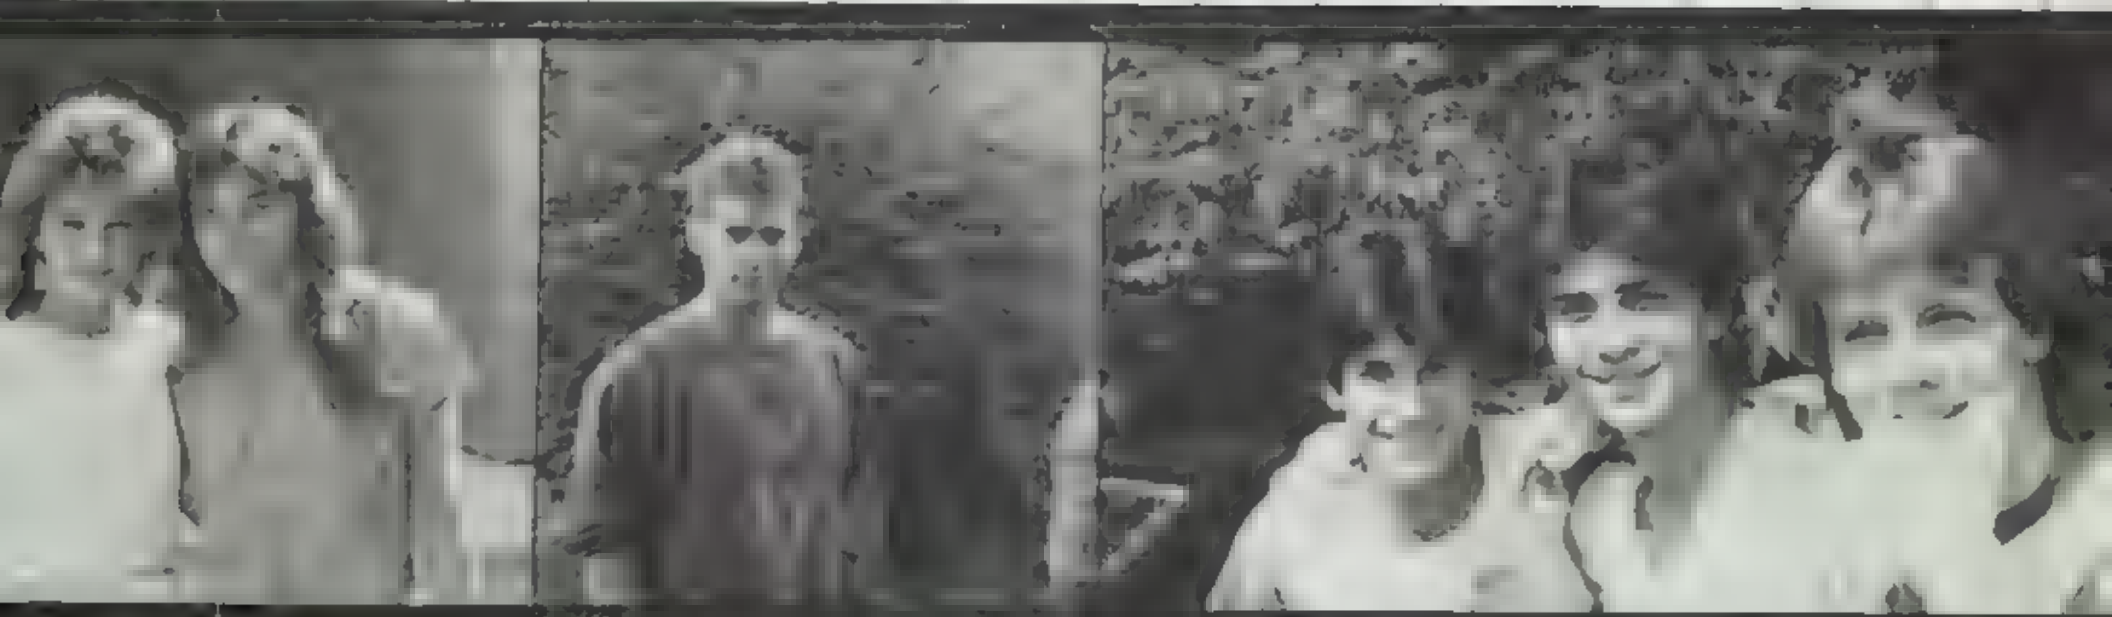

Think of Randall Heidemann and the first word that comes to mind is "Friendly." With an everpresent smile on his face, he teaches his Health and Phys. Ed classes in a relaxed manner that gets his students involved. Mr. Heidemann goes beyond his duty as a teacher and genuinely concerns himself with his students. He is a teacher who cares. For being cheerful, easy-going, and always Unmistakably North, we dedicate this yearbook to you, Randall Heidemann.

FALL

End of Summer Blues?

No more sun No more beaches. No more copper-tone or boardwalk partying. Welcome back to school! Clarkstown looked like a war zone on September 4th. But the 1,950 students here geared up for a year that would end all years — and smiled. Although summer may have only been yesterday, there were only 182 days until summer of '86!

The arena . . . the strategy . . . getting your schedule any way you can. Students joined the arena, waited in endless lines, and met their fate. The unlucky ones had to re-arrange and re-arrange because of familiar sayings: "I'm sorry, Humanities is filled Try Filmmaking." The lucky ones grinned. Their schedules had a perfect lunch, no 8th period, and English over with first period.

For the most part friends were able to take classes by choice rather by chance

The arena was new. We wondered if it would work, and it did — another reason why 1986 became Unmistakably North.

Scalping For Spaces

Students want to win the New York State lottery. The Charleston Northern High School students are interested in winning a car or a trip across the Atlantic. The grand prize was a space in the student parking lot at CHS. The tension grew as sixth period arrived and the drawing began. The names of all the seniors were picked out randomly and matched with a number. The lucky students who were matched with the numbers 1-27 received a place to park. The other spots were reserved for the students participating in the work experience program. The unlucky ones were disappointed and were even tempted to start petitions against the parking situation. Having a spot was like winning a treasure. Many students offered the winners a couple of hundred dollars for their parking space. Meanwhile, the rest of the class anxiously waited for people to have their spots taken. It was as punishment. Seniors had to resort to parking by the baseball field and Priors Crossing. The winners took great pride in their parking

Dreaming of The Weekend

Weekends are made for the wealthy, or so it seems in Rockland County. An average weekend here in New City generally costs an average student about $21.00, not to mention gas if you are old enough to drive!

In spite of everything is a weekend worth it? Absolutely. And even the 5 days we spend dreaming are worth it, too. The time we call "weekend" is worth more than money can buy.

Now That's Italian!

Since the first day of school, everyone knew the Italian exchange students were coming to Clarkstown North. Preparations were made for the hosting families, and trips. When they finally arrived on October 18, Clarkstown North was ready. The students were taken to West Point, New York, Little Italy, and the Rustic Lodge for a welcoming Dinner. The 15 exchange students and the 12 host students are now anxiously awaiting their reunion in April.

Raising the Roof!

Splits? Double Jumps? Cartwheels? well ... the 85-86 cheerleaders had a few other things on their mind. Of course they gave their all cheering for the Football, Basketball and Soccer games and were even the stars the night of the

Pep Rally, but the main goal for the Varsity and J.V. Squads this year was to have a good time. In their new purple and gold sweaters, the cheerleaders laughed, danced and sang loudly on the bus. The thirty Cheerleaders also participated in the Westchester Cheerleading competition in December, performing a dance routine. This year they were an exceptionally rowdy bunch and said by one of the thirty, "We're having a blast."

Juniors Spark Midseason Surge

RIGHT: Daren Recuperero
BELOW: John Buffa
Lower right: Don Lucca

For our soccer team victories in three out of four games helped shake off an early season slump. Tom Price, a junior, and John Weber a sophomore, each had key goals during this span. Other juniors who contributed were Ron Reck and Alan Friedman, Friedman, a fullback, had this to say about the season. "Even though our record was bad, we played well as a team. The Spring Valley game was one of our finest. We're really looking forward to next year." Seniors Mike Isman and Don Lucca were a vital part of the team, too. Isman, a midfielder, was probably North's most consistent player, while Lucca's strong net play kept North in almost every game.

It's not whether you win or lose . . .

The girls soccer team was led by a tough defense which shutout five opponents and held five others to only one goal. The defense was led by three seniors: Christine O'Connor, Karen Meyers and Erika McDaniel. The front line was a weak spot, though. The Lady Rams were forced to start two freshmen, Jennifer Reck and Janet Murphy. They also lost some spark when Lisa Minor went down with an injury. The disgruntled Minor said, "If there is one thing to say about our team, it's inexperience. Our defense was great, though. The season went by much too quickly."

A SPLASHING SUCCESS

The female Rams swimmers had a splash- ing success as they fin- ished their season with a 10-3 record. Captain Tina Lauricella had a triumphant season with a trip to the State Meet. Eighth Grade Superstar Stephanie Natale flew through Section 1 to States and had winning results in the 500 Frees- tyle events. Along with Lauricella and Natale, sophomore Kerry Mur- phy won All Section honors.

Overall, the Ramettes placed fourth in Section

1, and third at the Con- ference A meet. The highlight of the season was a victorious outcome over archrival Tappan Zee. This has been the best season North has seen in years!

Ram Defense Posts 5 Shutouts

This year Ram Football Team provided us with a winning season as well as a lot of excitement. The season kicked off with a last second victory under the lights at Nyack. The Rams found the basis of their season to be the solid Defense they played. Comprised of mainly Juniors, the defense proceeded to hold the opponents scoreless 5 times. Beside the Tough "D" the Rams continued their traditional aerial attack with quarterback Dan Casey throwing to team MVP Paul Toscano and Dan Hurley. The Rams also ignited a running game this year with sophomore Rip Patten leading the team in rushing yardage. This year's team boasted 5 All-Conference Players: Dan Casey, Chris Cerbino, Ray Curry, Ed Ruckel, and Paul Toscano.

Stickin' It To Suffern

Senior co-captains Amy Grahn and Heidi Schult led the field hockey team to a 5-5-4 league record. Although the team felt that they should have fared better, they fought hard throughout the season. Their mainstay was the strength of their defense. Senior Laura Archaki commented, "We have a good team. The chemistry was there, but the forward line was unable to score as they were capable of."

However, the forward line came through against rival and perennial power Suffern. Sophomore Chris Trainor scored early in the second-half of the game and the defense hung on more than tough to shut out the Mounties. The girls savored the 1-0 victory for they had come so close to beating them in recent years but had come up empty-handed. How sweet it was!

Girls Best in History

The girls team was the best in Ram's history. They ran an impressive 3-3 record and placed well in the invationals.

Sophomore, Larissa Rippa, consistently led the Rams and Eileen McConnell and Jane Marshall also provided key points. The team loses only senior co-captain Eileen Fee, so a bright future blossoms with experience and talent.

Rogan's Run . . . a Sprint to States

Cross Country, a dedicated group led by an amazing Mike Rogan, ran off early victories. But the team slowed slightly midseason. "We, except for Rogan, had our individual ups and downs," said senior co-captain, Neil Falis. Cross

Country's winning ways darted back into form at the end, making it a fun and successful season. Senior co-captain Mike Rogan captured first places in races such as The Suffern Invitational, The Grant Invitational, and The Manhattan Invitational; and maintained a perfect first place record in every dual meet and the County Meet. Roagan's only "blemish" was a second place finish in the Eastern States. Running High, Rogan was SUPER!!

Spike Into Sectionals

Once again the girls volleyball team enjoyed a very successful campaign. Leading the team were co-captains Gioia Pisano and Kristen Myers. Pisano was a definite leader throughout the year both on and off the court. Other seniors who contributed were Sandy Tarasoff and Lisa Schmidt. Because of their team unity the Rams were a force to reckon with all season long. Juniors contributed to the team as well. Very strong performances were put in by Aimee Rosen and Mindy Blitzer. The season reached its climax with a victory over rival Clarkstown South in the Section 1 quarter final game. Rounding out the starting squad was Eileen Hageny who played solidly all season long. Blitzer said of the season, "Even though we didn't win the Sectionals our real strength was shown when four of our players were picked for the All-Conference team."

Power '86 Senior Lunch

On November 27, 1985, all the seniors put on their best outfits for the annual Senior Luncheon. Arriving at about 12:30 the seniors piled out of their cars and into the Tappan Zee Towne House. Everyone was so happy to be there; to be seniors. It was finally our turn.

A variety of food was served and enjoyed by all. The Senior class officers announced and awarded the Superlative winners. But the best part of the whole afternoon was the dancing. The entire class of '86 danced up a storm to the music of D.J.'s Mike Wild and Seth Nuland. Even the invited teachers joined in. There was a feeling of unity, spirit and the power of '86 that filled the dance floor. By the end of the afternoon, everyone was worn out, but all had had a good time. No one can tell us we don't know how to party!!!

From Mud to Magic

This year's Homecoming game proved to be an exciting one. Early Saturday Morning the snow began to fall and our expectations arose.

The teams took the field at 2 and the game began. North got the ball and scored quickly on a Rip Patten TD run. The Rams fought hard but just couldn't keep the South offense down. The final score was 32-13.

That night Clarkstown North held the ever popular Homecoming Dance to cap off the Fall Sports season. Even though the weather was inclement, people were excited. A magical feeling existed in the gym where the Cheerleaders and the Pep Squad had transformed into a ballroom decorated with pink, red, and white balloons. We danced the night away with D.J. Miles who supplied us with the theme "Forever" and other popular music.

WINTER

Winters in New City can be less than mild. The walk from the Main to the Annex in 20 degree weather at eight in the morning can certainly be refreshing. Here at Clarkstown North we try to avoid Winter Doldrums by planning many activities and sports and by either taking part in or trying to avoid an occasional snowball fight. We know that Spring is right around the corner and to remind ourselves of that as we go to classrooms whose windows don't close. Never letting the cold get us down, we grin and bear it and remain UNMISTAKABLY NORTH!

..A Sacred

Place...

Who would believe that posters, pictures, stickers, memo pads, pens, scarves, mittens, jackets, books, papers, folders, and textbooks could fit in a skinny little locker? Well, believe it because all of us here at North somehow find a way to squeeze it all in. This year a junior put electric lights in his locker, and Michael Benowitz has his own electric burglar alarm system! Some lockers have air fresheners for those days mom packs egg salad for lunch. Many keep candy, gum, and other snacks for between classes. Messy? Maybe, but it's the only sacred place you can really call your own here at Clarkstown North.

SEVENTEEN SLICES OF PIZZA!

Throughout Clarkstown North's history the Junior class has had its annual pizza-a-thon. On January 14 a group of hungry Juniors got together to raise money for their class. To qualify to eat, each student had to receive at least twenty dollars in sponsors. Mike Coakely, alone raised over fifty dollars. Everyone had an hour to eat as many slices of pizza as possible. As Noel Spear, the vice president of the Junior class, rolled out 20 pies the Juniors were eager to begin. The "King" and "Queen" of the pizza-a-thon went to Matt Mulrooney and Christine Turk. Matt was able to eat seventeen slices of pizza while Christine ate seven slices of pizza. Unfortunately, the school record held by John Mulrooney, Matt's older brother was not broken.

SAT'S - QUIZZES

And these were supposed to be the easy, carefree days of our youth? With achievements, exams, quizzes, and other numerous tests the Juniors, Seniors, Freshmen and Sophomores were far from carefree. The Freshmen were warned about doing well in high school because "doing well in your Freshman and Sophomore years will give you a good padding for your Junior year." The Sophomores were continually warned about their Junior year being "the hardest and the most important." So the Sophomores worked just as hard their Sophomore year as they did in their Freshman. They worked to get those A's before becoming Juniors. The Juniors are now psyched up for a terribly hard year in high school that turns out to be easier than expected. The only hard part about being a Junior is the P.S.A.T.'s and S.A.T.'s, and the beginning of college aggravation. Many Juniors not only studied at home for P.S.A.T.'s and S.A.T.'s, but some enrolled in classes such as Stanley Kaplan's P.S.A.T. and S.A.T. courses. Some Juniors even found themselves re-taking their S.A.T.'s in their Senior year. So being a Senior isn't all that it's cracked up to be. The pressures of being a Senior really hit hard in the beginning of the year with S.A.T.'s, achievements, mid-semester grades and college applications. In the end everyone realizes high school days are far from carefree, but then again, who said life was easy?

MERRY MELODIES

Every year, previous to winter break, a concert is performed in Clarkstown North's auditorium. This year, however, a new band leader led the concert band. Mr. Frahme, who came to Clarkstown North in the Fall did an outstanding job with the Big Ram Band during football season. He did an even better job with the concert band for the winter concert. Along with Mr. Frahme's outstanding job, Mr. Gold also performed stupendously, leading the orchestra and chorus, making it an enjoyable evening for everyone.

Above: Mr. Frohne leads the state band

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society inducted over one hundred new members for the eleventh and twelfth grades this year. To be eligible, a student must maintain a 90 average or better each year in high school, or an 89 average by the Senior year. It is then that the faculty judges each student and narrows down the selection. A member must show leadership, scholarship, service and character. After being picked, there is a ceremony where the new members are inducted into this society, and where the old members are again honored for their outstanding achievement. Students deserve acknowledgement for their academic excellence as well as their all around North spirit. Congratulations to our North Honors!"

DECCA HOLDS FIRST CONCERT

Saturday night, January 18, Clarkstown North's Auditorium was rocking to the beat of Infinity. Infinity is a group composed of Seth Nuland on lead guitar, Andrew Thomases on base, Ken Frieriech on drums, Rich Moskerelli from South on rhythm guitar and lead vocals, and Jackie Rugg on vocals.

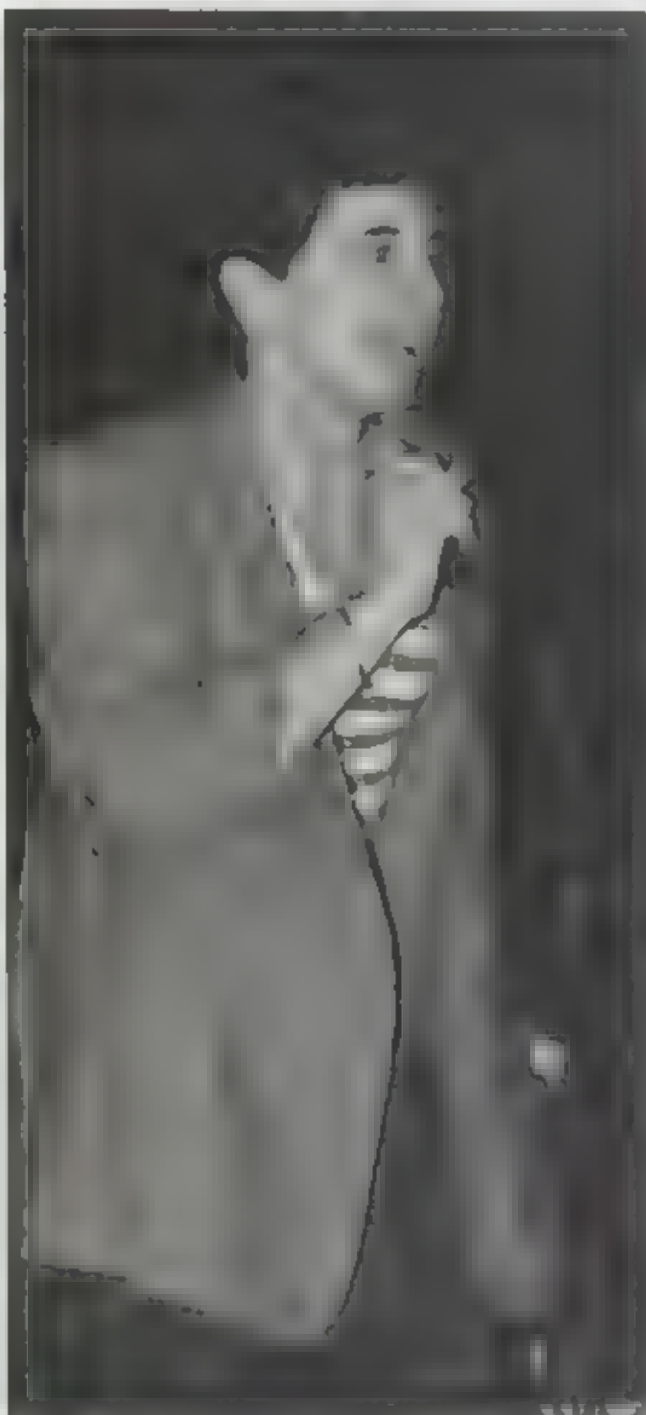

The concert raised approximately five hundred dollars for Decca. Decca as senior Seth Nuland says "is about getting teens involved in the business world."

Infinity played a variety of songs from Pat Benetar to the Police. The group sounded excellent and Decca certainly profited from the funds raised.

RADICAL RECHANGES

Last year when Mr. Nicholson came to Clarkstown North, he told every class individually that there were going to be "changes here." Everyone was thinking about construction and the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors mixing. Well, were we surprised when we found out that there was going to be a smoking section at North, between the Annex and Main! Now, students who smoked did not have to sneak a cigarette, or be penalized for it. Another advantage of the smoking section is; the people who don't smoke don't have to be bothered by the smell of the smoke. Mr. Nicholson has proved to Clarkstown North that when he says "change" he means "radical changes."

WINTER DEADLINE

So this is winter? Where are the 12 inches of snow? Why are people walking around in shorts and short sleeve shirts? Winter seems to be a little slow this year with temperatures in the 50's and 60's no one seems to realize that we are supposed to be wearing heavy sweaters and down jackets. So why is our headline WINTER MISSES DEADLINE? Because there was no snow when this layout was due!!!

On the morning of February 14 at Clarkstown North the air was filled with the smell of 3,500 red, pink, and yellow carnations. The spirit of Valentines Day, better known as flower day at North was in the air as students sent carnations to their friends and lovers. Sending flowers symbolizes good times shared in high school. Although flower day has become an annual event, never before have so many flowers been exchanged in the history of Clarkstown North.

HIGH TOPS HIT TOP

With a well-rounded game and contributing play from both the starters as well as the bench, this years Varsity Boys Basketball Team posted a respectful record in the new A-1 conference. They succeeded in finishing among the top teams and played especially well against the Westchester schools.

The Team was lead by Seniors Mike

McCready (Center), leading scorer Sandy Walker (Forward), and Junior Dan Casey (Forward).

The Rams also won the important game against Archrival South High School. They defeated the Vikings 48-42 in an exciting defensive battle.

With rising young players the team is expecting good things in years to come.

Talent Tallies Victories

Basketball fever at North is contagious. The girls basketball team surely caught it — enough to compile a winning season. The Rams ran circles around competition with their talent and experience. Many opponents concentrated upon defending hard against Chris Turk, the county's leading scorer but the hot hands of Laura Cannon, passing of Debbie Cannon, playmaking of Karen Meyers, relentless rebounding of Kelly Machold, and a strong bench kept the adversaries off balance. Despite facing height disadvantages against their rival powers, South and North Rockland, intense defense kept them close only to lose by 2 and 3 respectively. The lady Rams are looking for revenge in the Sectionals where success seems imminent.

THE RAM-STROKE

Clarkstown swimming coached by Ellen Knowell and Kathy Kohler finished its season with a 6-6 record. This was the second year in our high school swimming history that both North and South High schools had a single team. Through a combined effort of both south swimmers co-captained by Danny Young and North swimmers by Joe Dwyer we had a great year.

Through this combined effort Clarkstown was able to have a group of individuals compete on three different levels of competition. They are county, section and state.

The 24 man swimming team was led by Varsity swimmers Joe Dwyer, Jim Dwver, John Melillo, Craig Tunks, Tim Kaim, Jason Kaye, and Drew Hodgens. These swimmers combined with the J.V. swimmers, and the new 9th and 8th grade recruits produced a winning season.

Wrestlers On The Road Again

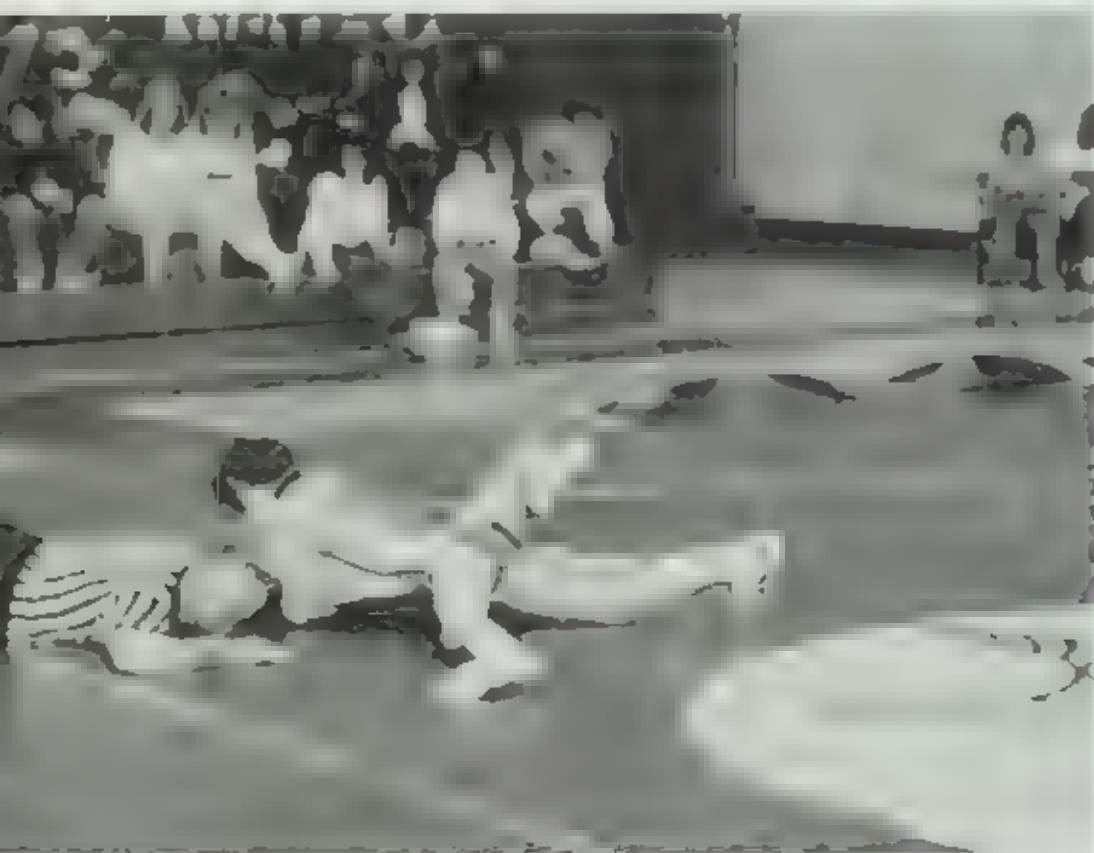

Second year coach Ben Blackwell's hopes for a promising season turned sour when there were a lack of returning varsity starters and several critical injuries early. However, spirit and fun did not diminish due to highlights by Al Bevilacque who led the team in personal victories, Tony Stendardo and Dan Weinberg's strong performances, and the recruitment of many freshman hopefuls for future stardom.

SPRING

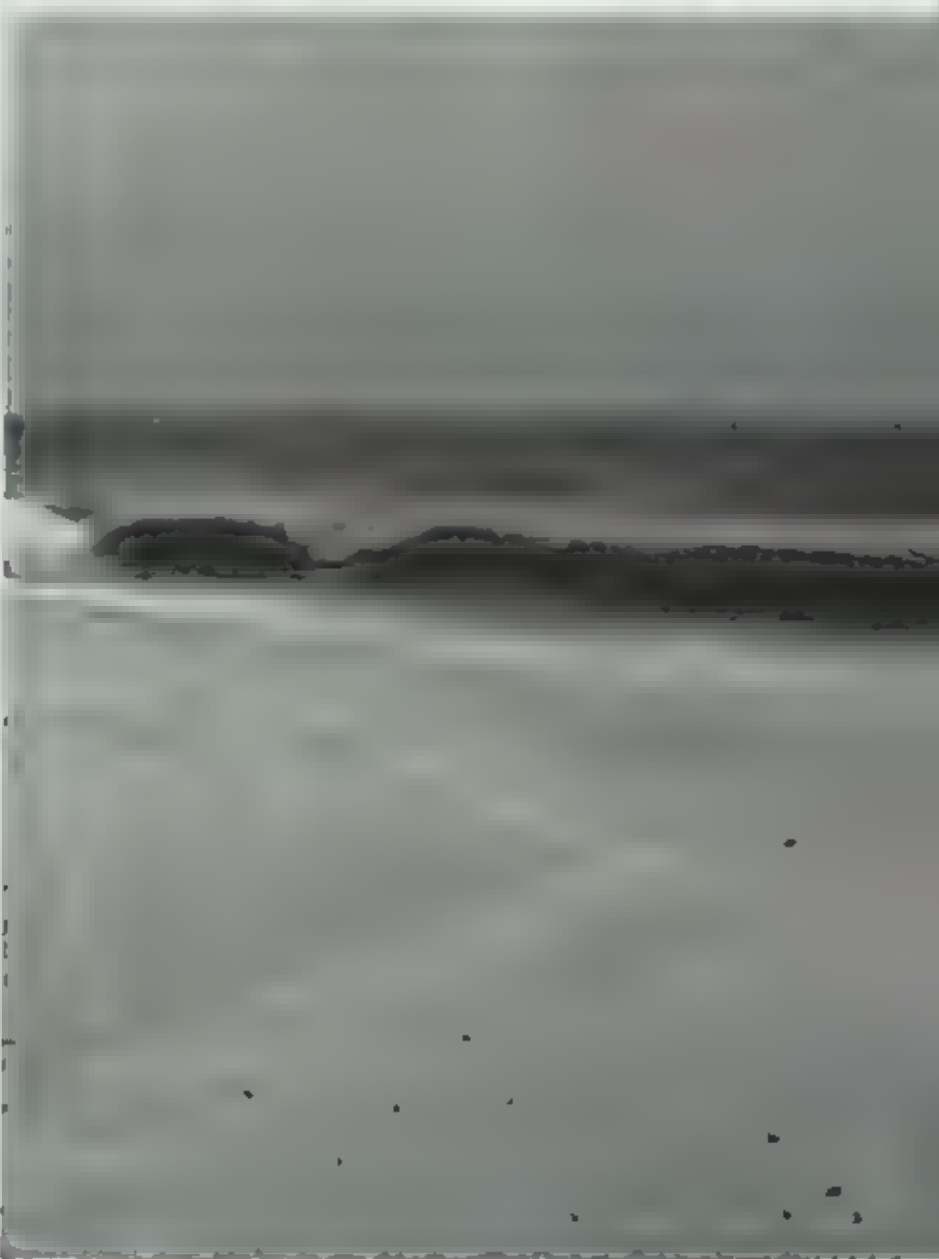

The fever strikes! As the days warm up, our spirits catch fire as we enjoy the beginning of the end. Although we have trouble dragging ourselves away from lunch outside with the traditional frisbee games, we go to our classes (Well, most of them) and enjoy the days that are quickly drawing closer to Summer Vacation. Spring Fever is in the air, but we all live through it and eventually make it a Graduation Day that is sure to be UNMISTAKABLY NORTH!

North Students are beach bums at heart. Whether it be the beaches by the Ft. Lauderdale strip, the Jersey Shore, or Seaside Heights, those beach bums are always ready to hit the waves. As a matter of fact, it is not uncommon for students to make reservations at hotels, at the shore for prom weekend, or the Yankee trader on the Strip, a year in advance. Everyone loves the sun, but not as much as North students do. So, when it is finally time to make waves, they grab their shades and Coppertone, and make their vacation a BIG SPLASH!!!

The class of '86 brought new things to Clarktown North. New names, rules and faces. They also brought seven sets of twins, which is something new, because never before has there been so many twins in one class. Of the seven,

Mindy and Paula Shapiro are the only identical set, and Liz and David Carlson are the only twins of the opposite sex. The rest are the same sex, and they are all fraternal.

BAND-AID

There's a new trend in the music business: giving. It all began in 1984 when Bob Geldof of the British group, "The Boomtown Rats" organized the release of the single, "Feed The World". The single was the result of the time and talent donated by many popular artists including members of "The Police", "U2", "Wham", and "Power Station". These artists combined to form the group "Band-Aid" and donated the record's proceeds to the starving in Africa.

Soon after, Lionel Richie organized a similar project involving American artists including Bruce Springsteen, Huey Lewis, and Tina Turner. "U.S.A. For Africa" released "We Are the World" whose proceeds were also donated to the needy.

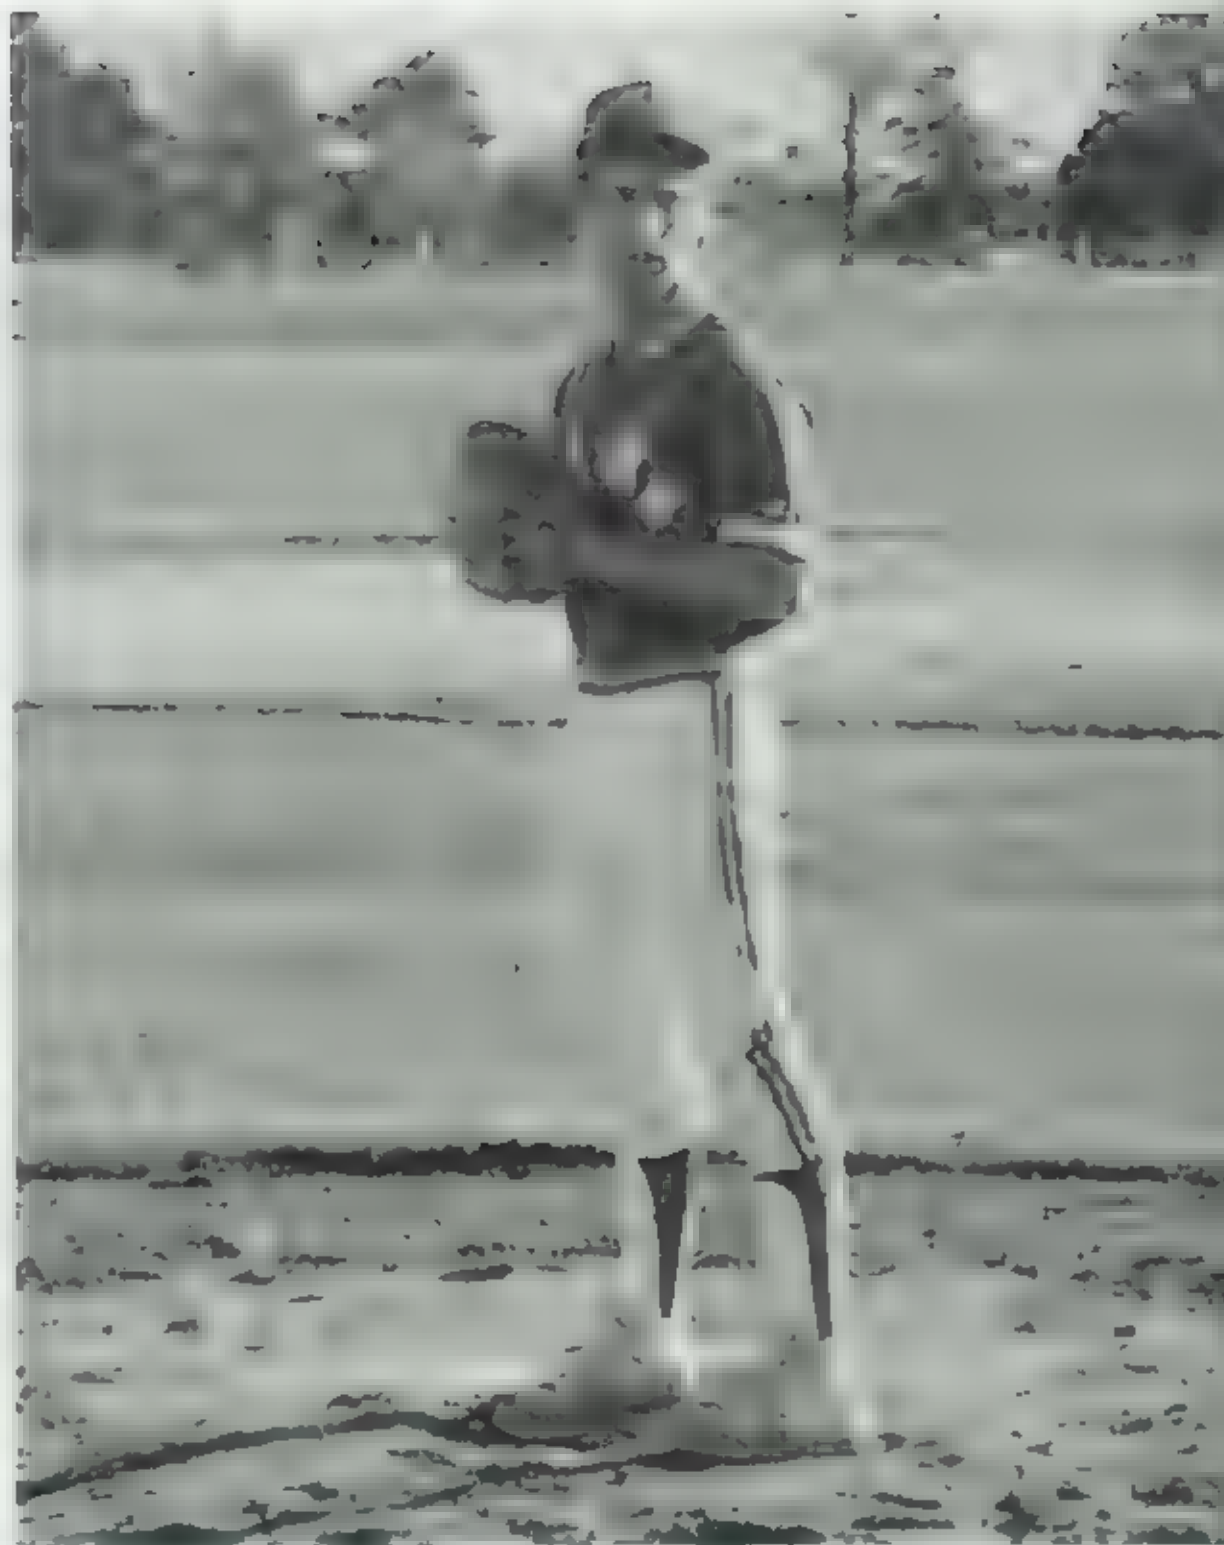

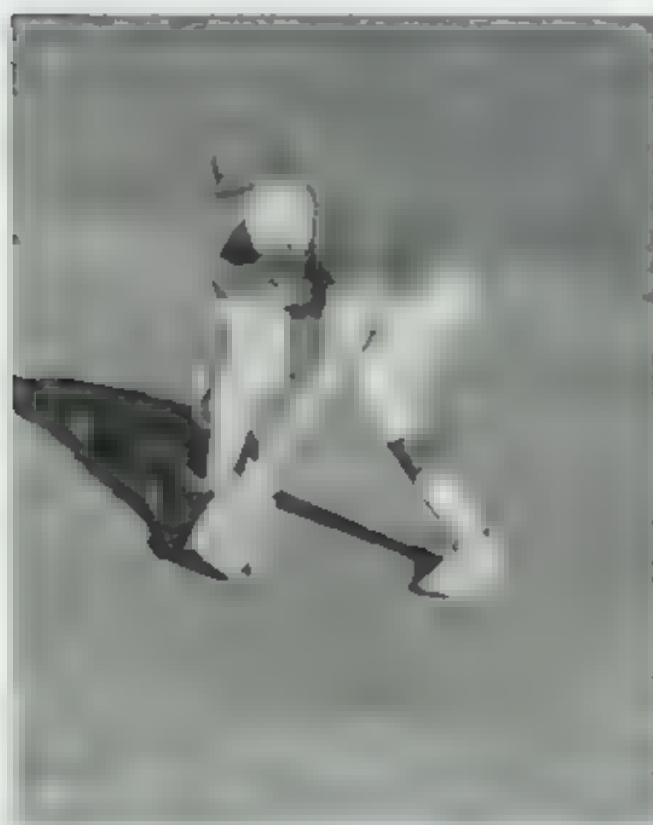

The trend caught fire. Similar projects were started including "Live-Aid", a benefit concert in London and Philadelphia that raised millions, "Farm-Aid", whose proceeds went to needy American farmers, and the release of the single "Sun City" by Artists Against Apartheid.

On November 22 C.H.S.N. took part in this trend. The annual Battle of the Bands, whose proceeds usually benefit the Senior Class and provided for a prize for the favorite band, took on a new purpose: Fundraising. This year the profits were divided up between the Mexican Relief Fund, an organization aimed to raise funds for earthquake victims and S.A.D.D., Students against Driving Drunk.

The spirit of competition abandoned for the spirit of giving, no single band was declared the winner. Rather, the bands contributed their time and talent to provide for a night of giving as well as a night of entertainment.

Fredricks Hurls Rams to Victory

With underclassmen John Fredricks and Dan Casey leading the way the Rams had a very successful baseball season. The team made it all the way to the Division finals before being defeated. Casey, the shortstop and leading batsman, and Fredricks, who was giving opposing hitters fits all season long, were only two members of the powerful Ram squad. Ray Curry the centerfielder, had some tremendous drives during the season. He also seemed to always come up with a hit when the Rams needed it most. Other players who contributed were Ken Mahoney and Don Lucca. Mahoney proved his worth to the team with strong pitching outings when they were necessary. What is even greater than last years season is the expectation for this year. Last year the Rams made it to the section finals. Maybe this year they can bring home the Division 1 crown.

Track team flying high

The boys track team of 1985 was similar to those of past years; strength in the distance and field events. While Mike Rogan was receiving most of the ink for his feats, many other Rams proved to be very valuable to the team. The distance runners, led by Nick Parente, Tom Hoey, Dave Harrington, and Mike Coakley, proved themselves worthy throughout the season. Shot Putter, Phil Potenza was a potent threat, along with Marc Chasanoff and Pat Holt. The Rams also received much needed points from Willie Oliver and Sonny Tu in the high jump and pole vault, respectively, while long and triple jumpers, Joe Salowey and Ray Go, continued North's traditional ability in those events.

The girls track team, a small group of highly talented girls, continued to progress and the 1985-86 season was the best ever. Because of their outstanding individual and relay performances, they were very competitive with much larger teams. Versatile Jill Hirshfeld was the county leader in the long and triple jumps, with strong support from Tara Pizzuto, and also joined with Eileen McConnell, Jane Marshall, Lisa Circelli, and Jan McGovern to form school (cont)

Once again our gymnastics team had a terrific season. Even though the team consisted of members of the North and South high schools, most of the points came via North's gymnasts. Captain Danielle Marcario lived up to her title by providing leadership for younger gymnasts and constantly took first place in the vault. Another season who scored well all season was Sue Fantini, who competed in the floor exercise and on the bars. Both Marcario and Fantini made it to the sectional tournament in two events. Other seniors who provided the Rams with numerous points were Vanessa Dorian, Tracy Yaphe, and Sharon Feigenbaum. After a very shaky 2-2 start, the Rams swept the next three meets. The Mt. Vernon meet was the Rams biggest output all season. After that, they swept a triangle meet from White Plains and Mamaroneck. The final meet, against Fox Lane was probably the best outing for the team. Once again the team was coached by Marty Bretschneider

The Ram Boys Varsity Tennis posted a powerful 14-4 record and gained much respect in a tough division.

The Rams were led by Adam Gilinson, Fred Adler, and the Song brothers. A factor which also had a big effect on the season was Coach Schwartz, besides leading the Ram's during the season he was also named Coach of the Year.

The girls tennis team rallied superbly to an awesome 11-3 record. Key players were Stacy Marshall, first singles, Carol Katz, second singles, and Sammi Shapss and Jodi Weil, first doubles. The tandem of Shapss and Weil also won first place in the doubles play of the Fordham Invitational; Marshall defeated Katz in the finale of singles play of another tournament. Co-captains Jen Wachman and Leslie Schulein led the cohesive and highly spirited team to a top seed in the Sectionals. Unfortunately, they had to forfeit play due to the absence of Coach Gelman during tournament time. Otherwise, the girls had fun and made North proud of their tennis.

NORTH STA

To ADAM FELENSTEIN ice hockey is like second nature. He has been playing for 9 years, since he was 5. Now that he is 14 years old he plays for the Clarkstown North Rams varsity team, starting on the front line. Being a Freshman, Adam accepts support from his older brother Scott, and the rest of the team.

When Adam isn't playing for the Rams he plays on the Spring league at Low Tor, and the Fall league at Sport-O-Rama.

Being such an avid hockey fan, Adam's favorite team is the Rangers. His favorite player is number 12, Don Maloney.

Adam expects to play hockey throughout high school and throughout college.

"Youth court is a great way to experience the justice system first hand" says SARA NULAND, a Sophomore who has been on youth court for two years.

To become a part of the Rockland County youth court you must go for an interview, and either be accepted or rejected. If accepted, you begin an intense training period for 8 weeks. After the training period you can observe an actual court scene, and act as an assistant. It is then months until you can become an attorney, clerk, or bailiff. To become judge, you must be 16 years old.

Sara Nuland started youth court when she was 13 years old. Her job now, varies from being clerk, bailiff, or an attorney.

Some of the cases they are tried are for petty larceny, or the possession of drugs.

Being in a band is a dream that a lot of people have. To be making music either your own or borrowing someone else's is a feeling that JOE MCNEINER has felt. Joe is happiest when he is jamming with his band nowblind. With Eric Weiss on vocals, Forrest Heighon on drums, and Chris Armitage on bass, making music is easy.

Joe has been playing guitar for 3 years and has been taking lessons for 3 years. He plays on 2 kinds of guitars, a Fender Stratocaster, and a Guild Flying-V.

As any sports fan has his favorite player, Randy Rhodes is Joe's favorite guitarist.

Joe will be playing guitar throughout his life.

At 15 Maple Avenue, in New City there is a place where the people are like "brothers." JOE MCARNEY the youngest "brother" has been a member of the New City Fire House for over a year and a half. To be a fireman you must have dedication, ambition, and patience. Joe fulfills all of these qualities.

Joe's father, a New York City Fireman, has paved the way for his son. Joe took 13 classes of 3 hours each at the fire training center in Pomona. He is now a probationary member because of his age. When he becomes a senior member, at 18, he will have all the rights he didn't have being on probation.

A volunteer fireman is something that a lot of people take for granted, but Joe McCarney is going to stick with it throughout his life.

85-'86: The Best/Worst of Times

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. It was the age of science advancement, it was the age of the shuttle disaster. It was an epoch of arms negotiations in Geneva, it was an epoch of war in the Middle East. It was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness. It was the spring of Band Aid, it was the winter of famine. We had nuclear advancement, we had Star wars. It was time for Sun City, it was time for apartheid in South Africa. It was the age of space flights, it was the age of plane crashes. It was an epoch of high tech security, it was an epoch of plane hijacking. It was a season of advancement in Cancer research, it was a season of AIDS disease. It was a time of great economic growth, it was a time of undescrivable starvation — In short, it was a time in which government leaders spoke of great things in the future due to our present successes while many others were concerned about our possible extinction due to our failures. It was a year of contradictions in every way.
Craig Tunks

The theme of the year at North in '85 and '86 was definitely construction. Everywhere we went there were constant reminders that renovations were under way. Construction was noisy, ugly, and often disruptive, but we here at North learned to adapt to it — just as we adapted to all the other changes in school this year. Hopefully the end results of construction will be well worth any inconvenience it might have caused.

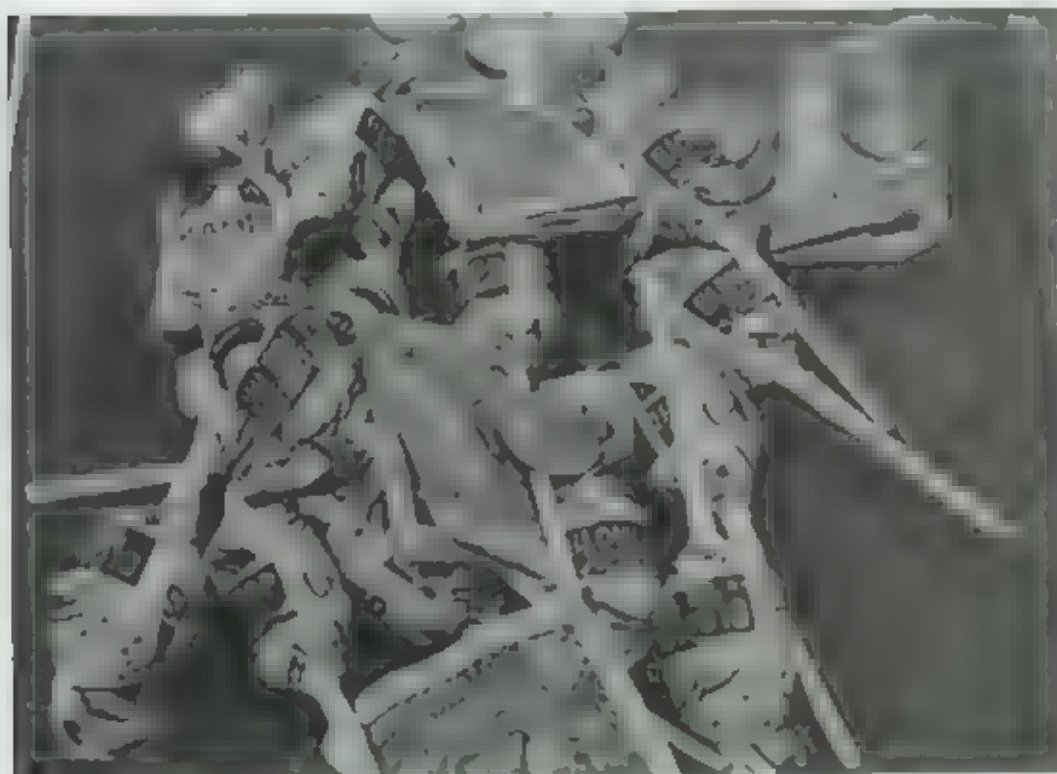

Where to put next years freshmen. That was a question pondered by the district for several months this year. Due to the Regents Action Plan and the discontinuance of the use of several rooms in the mansion, the problem of lack of classroom space for next year, became a very serious one. After being presented with several viable options by the Superintendent of Schools, the School Board voted to install portable classrooms at North next year.

bove: The School Board Ponders a decision

Ask your Average high school student how much money he has and the answer will probably be, "not enough." It doesn't take a young person long to learn the importance of money in our society. It is evident from the many young entrepreneurs walking around selling candy for their various organizations that they are no strangers to capitalism. It is also no surprise that many of these people have after school jobs. Having a job helps teach them the responsibilities of earning money while allowing them extra pocket money to spend

The Work We Do

RIGHT: New City Volunteer Ambulance Squad
ABOVE RIGHT: Michelle Carucci

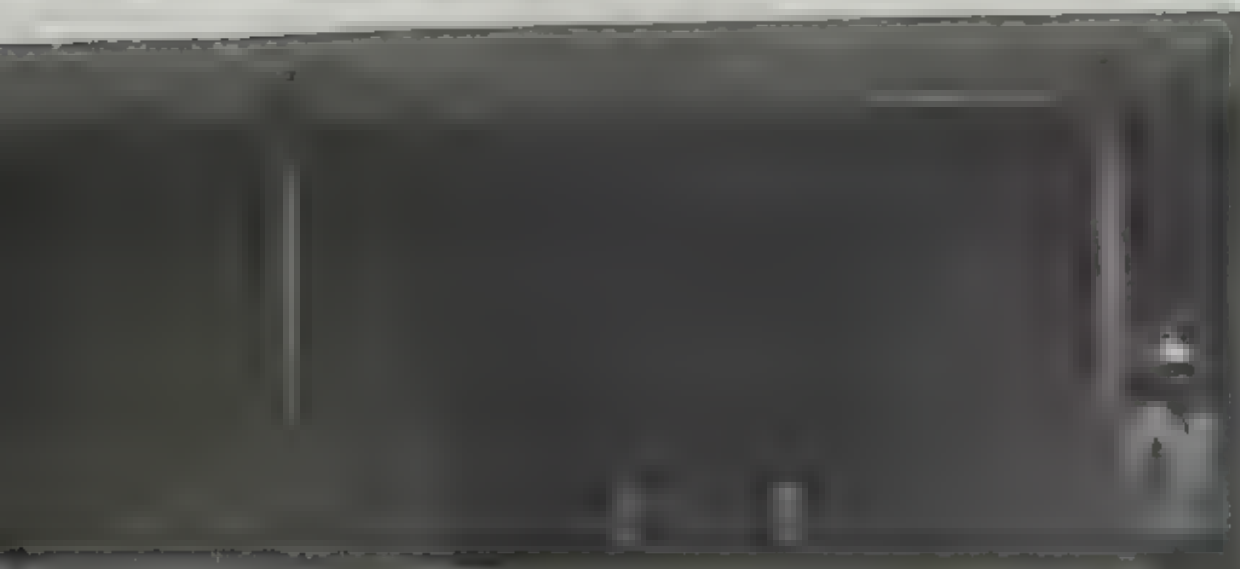

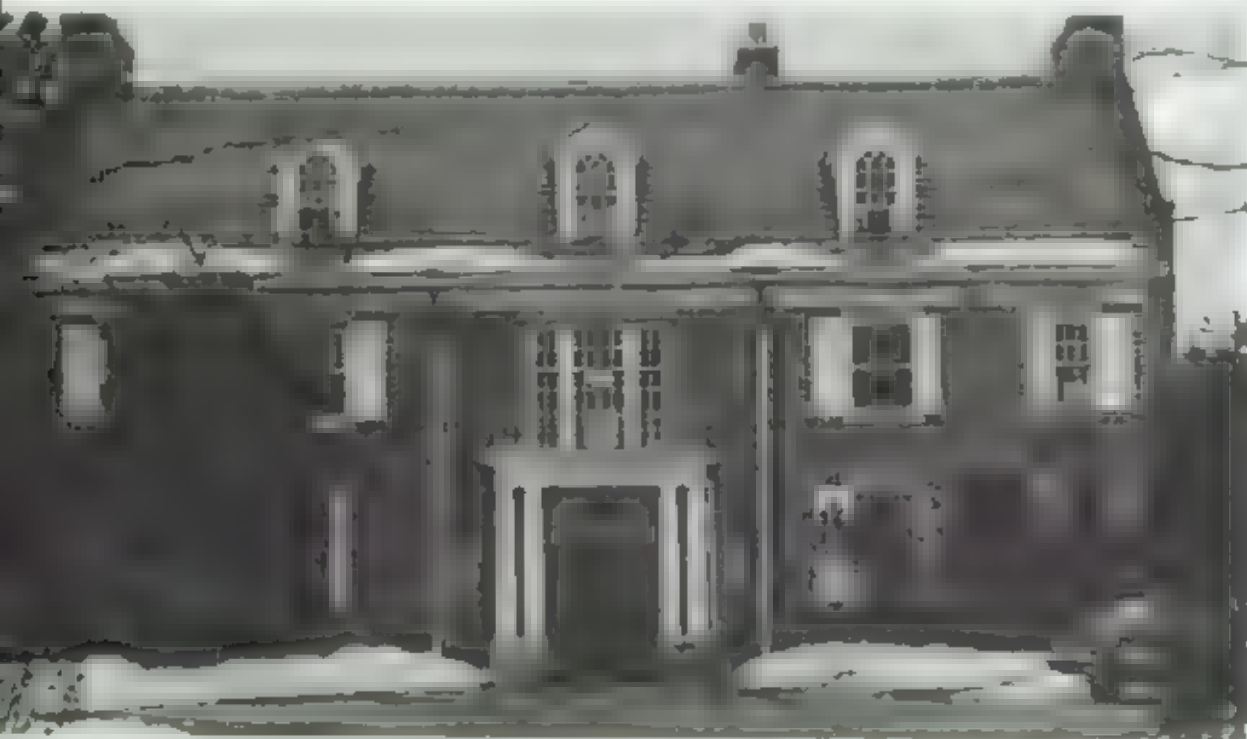

Not everyone works to make money. Some students are Volunteers who work to aid others rather than to put some money in the bank. These Volunteers include Candy Strippers, Volunteer Firemen and The Volunteer Ambulance Corps.

Whether we call it part of the main building, the old building, or the "Heritage House," the mansion is one of the unique parts of North that everyone remembers. Just like most students at CHSN, it has many stories to tell and a long interesting history

The mansion was built in 1915 on a 32.80 acre estate by Frederick Grosvenor Carnochan. It was solidly constructed of steel, concrete, brick and marble. Mr. Carnochan who owned large areas of farm land in New City and West Nyack, built this house to cater to his exotic tastes. There were 18 rooms, many marble fireplaces and marble shower stalls, a swimming pool, and many other luxuries. The estate was beautifully landscaped including trees and shrubs that were brought from China and were the only ones of their kind in the country. In May 1944, Carnochan and his wife Edna Guy, sold the estate. During the next decade the property changed hands many times. Shortly after the Clarkstown School district was established in the late 1940's it was agreed that a new junior-senior high school was needed, and several possible sites were investigated. However, in June of 1950, Ernst Flender offered a gift of 46 acres of land to the District for the school, at the intersection of Strawtown and Old Congers Road. But soon after the donation, the Spring Valley Water Works and Supply Company announced that they needed this land for the Lake DeForest Reservoir that was on the verge of creation. Thus the district looked for a new site. At this time the Carnochan estate became available again. The property was inspected in June 1951 and impressed everyone with its adaptability for school purposes. Clarkstown convinced the water company to buy the property and make an even swap of the titles. On July 19, 1951, officials concluded the transfer of titles. Within the next year the $2,009,000 bond issue for the new school was passed and original construction began.

Alternate Parking Suggestions

Other than construction, perhaps the most frustrating thing for all students this year has been the parking situation. All Juniors who drive to school and many seniors, are forced to park on side streets and walk to school. The prospects for next years parking situation, if anything, appear worse. To make light of a fairly bleak situation we have composed this list of suggestions for parking next year.

2. Turn the annex into a 3 level garage
3. the football field
4. the Gym
5. the administrations offices

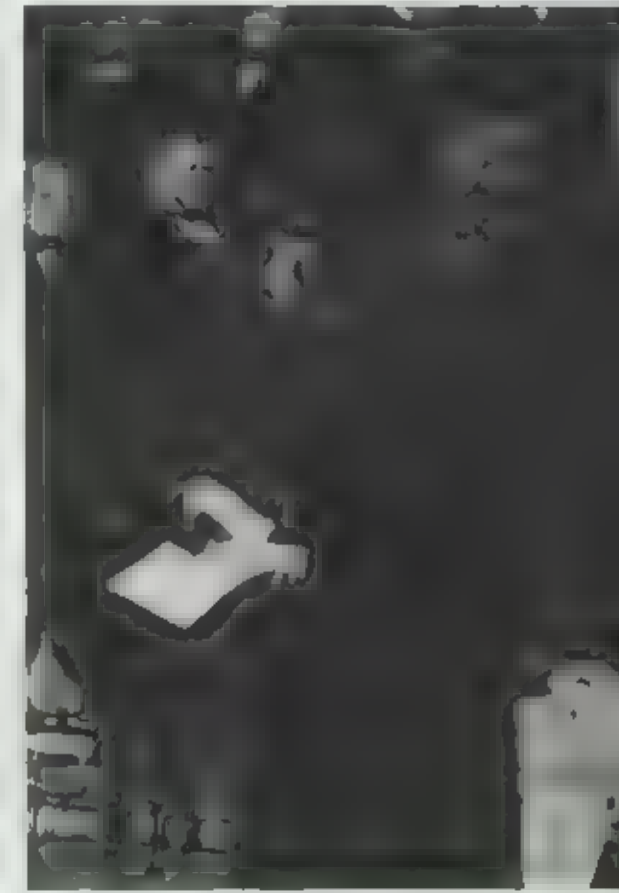

Personal Victories

The Hudson Valley South West section of the New York State Home Economics Teachers Association named Mrs. Mott their 1984-85 teacher of the year. Mrs. Mott was recognized for her efforts in assisting the state organization and for her dedication to the Home Economics Education in Rockland County. Here at North, Mrs. Mott is a teacher, Cheer leading advisor, and Senior class advisor

"Objection your honor." These words can be heard coming from any one of the members of the 1986 New York State Mock Trial Team. Students are chosen for the team after they have completed a semester of law. Members of the team are selected for both interest and aptitude in law. At the beginning of the competition the team is given a copy of the case which will be used throughout the tournament. Their packets contain all the information they need to prepare their case for a court of law. After the team prepares one side of the case they must compete in a real courtroom in front of a real judge

North's football team was chosen to receive a trophy for "Outstanding Sportsmanship." The trophy is awarded every year by Saunders High School in Yonkers, to the team that they felt played the toughest, but most sportsmanlike game. The Coaches and Captains of the Saunders team came to North to present the trophy to our Captains and Coaches. There was a short "ceremony" in Mr Nicholson's office followed by lunch for the two teams.

Rock Musician Sting recorded a song with the refrain "I hope the Russians love their Children too." This line refers to the need for Peace between our two countries. Earlier this year President Reagan met with Gorbachev the president of the Soviet Union to discuss Peace and arms control. Hopefully this is a sign that our two countries can and will find a peace favorable to both.

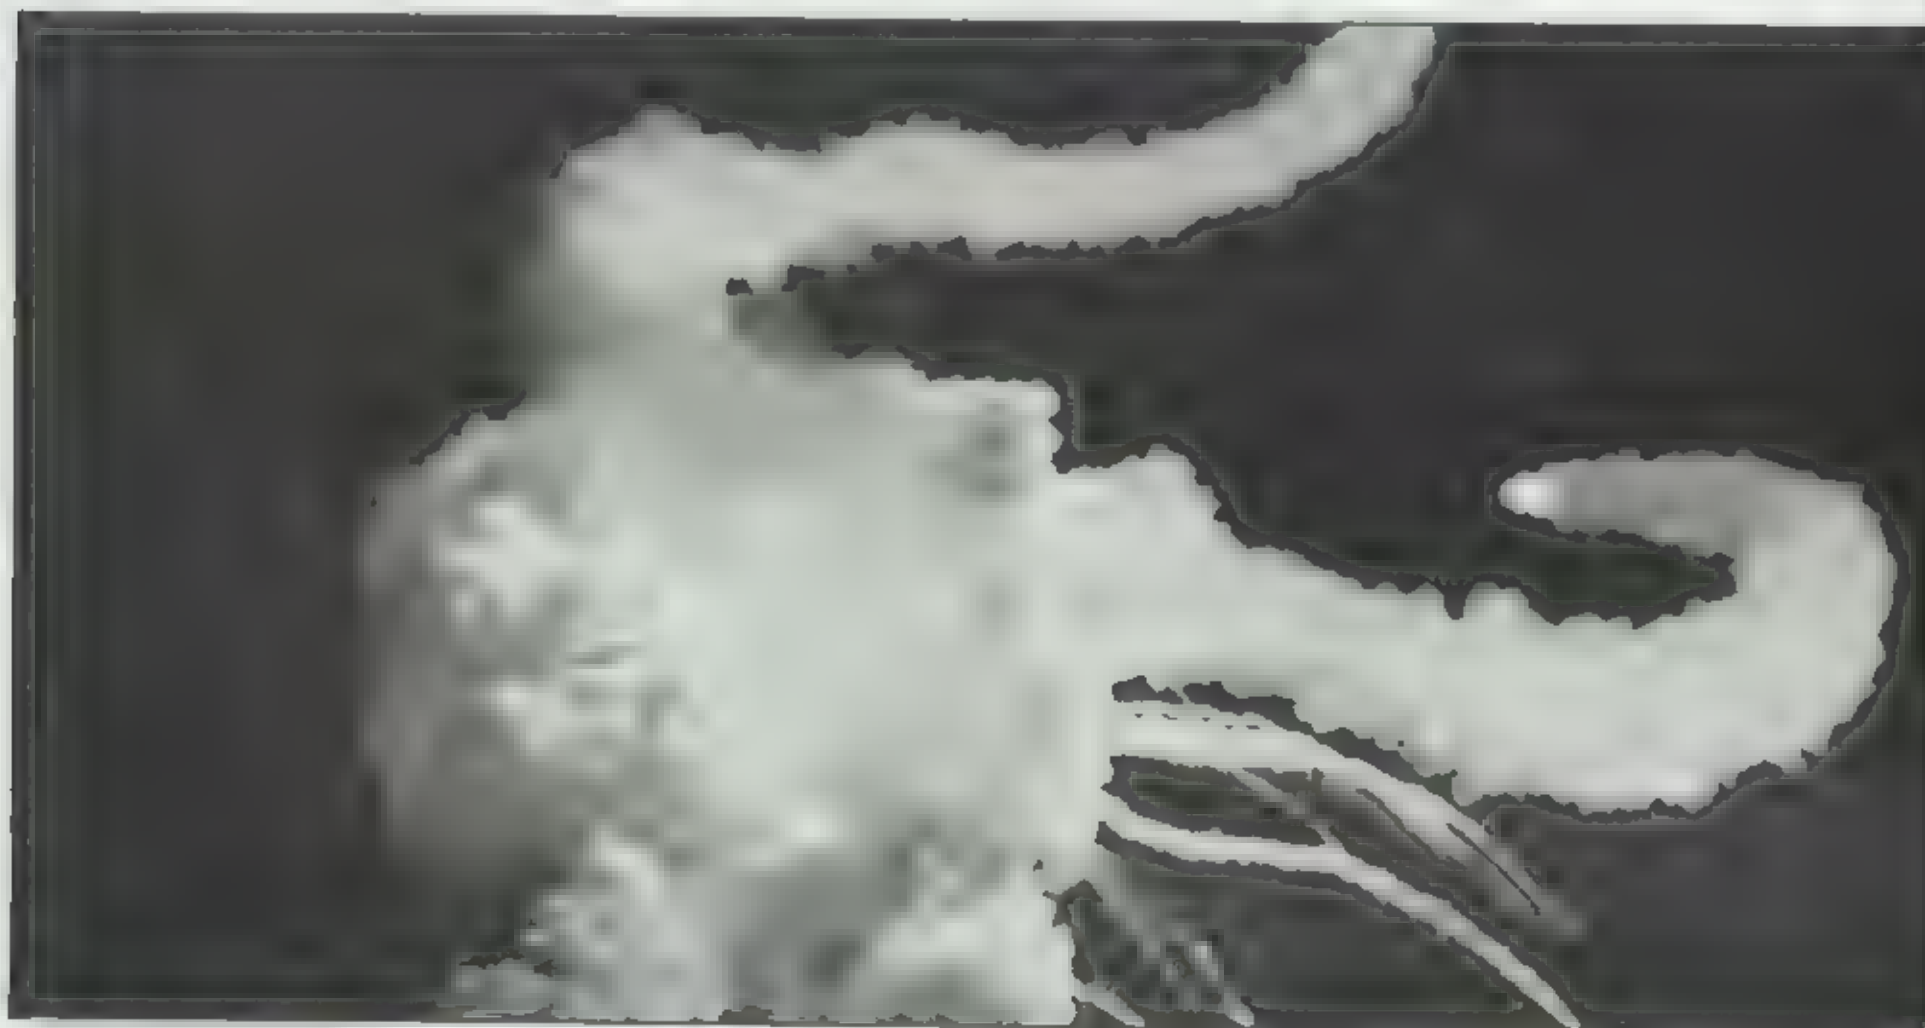

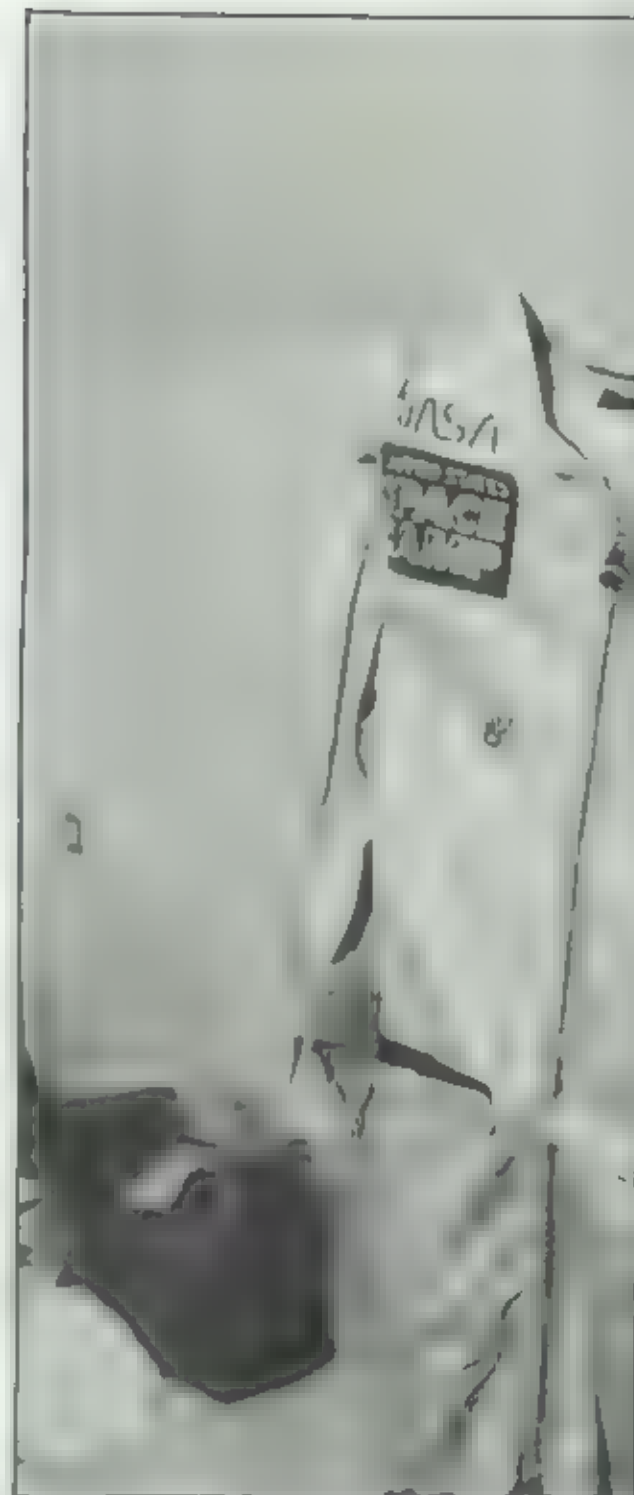

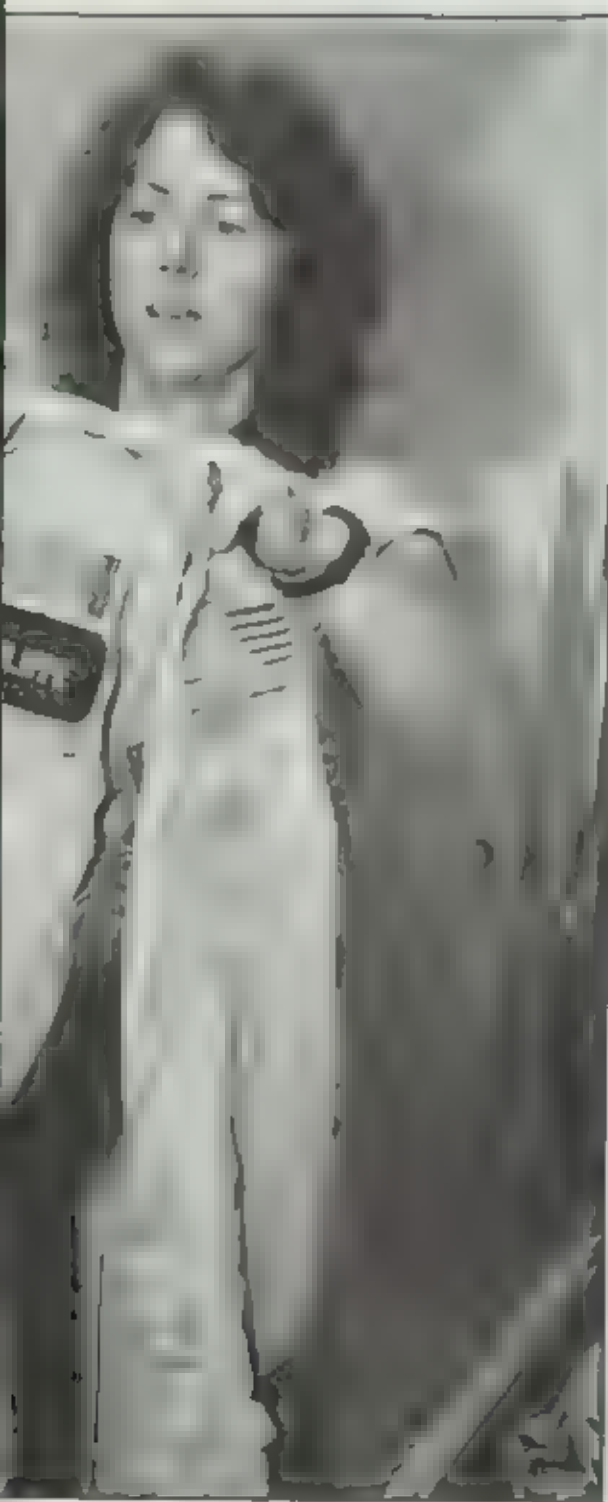

In December of 1985 the Business Department at North participated in a Type-A-Thon to earn money for the Leukemia Society of America. Clarkstown North ranked second for highest school pledges. Eden Schwartz of North was the student to raise the most money in the entire area. She raised $427.00 for the Leukemia Society and was awarded a Smith Corona Grphtext 90 electric Typewriter. Other students who raised over $30 and also recieved received prizes were: Jeff Kalma, Stacey Lehrer, Andrew Mileman, David Newman, Alice Reinmuth, Diane Ruckel, Craig Tunks, Allison Weiss and Matthew Wolfman

LEST WE FORGET

The explosion of the Space Shuttle Challenger was a tragedy that touched the entire world. People watched in horror as one of modern technologies proudest achievements vanished in a cloud of smoke. Millions of Americans mourned the death of the brave pioneers on board as a personal loss. The crew of Challenger had one goal: to explore new frontiers and use their knowledge to help the rest of the world explore them, too. Glamour and fame were not their objectives — facing challenges were. They were willing to take chances and there is no denying their bravery. There are many other astronauts waiting for their turn to go up in space. Even after witnessing the death of Challenger they are willing to take the risk for their own chance in the stars.

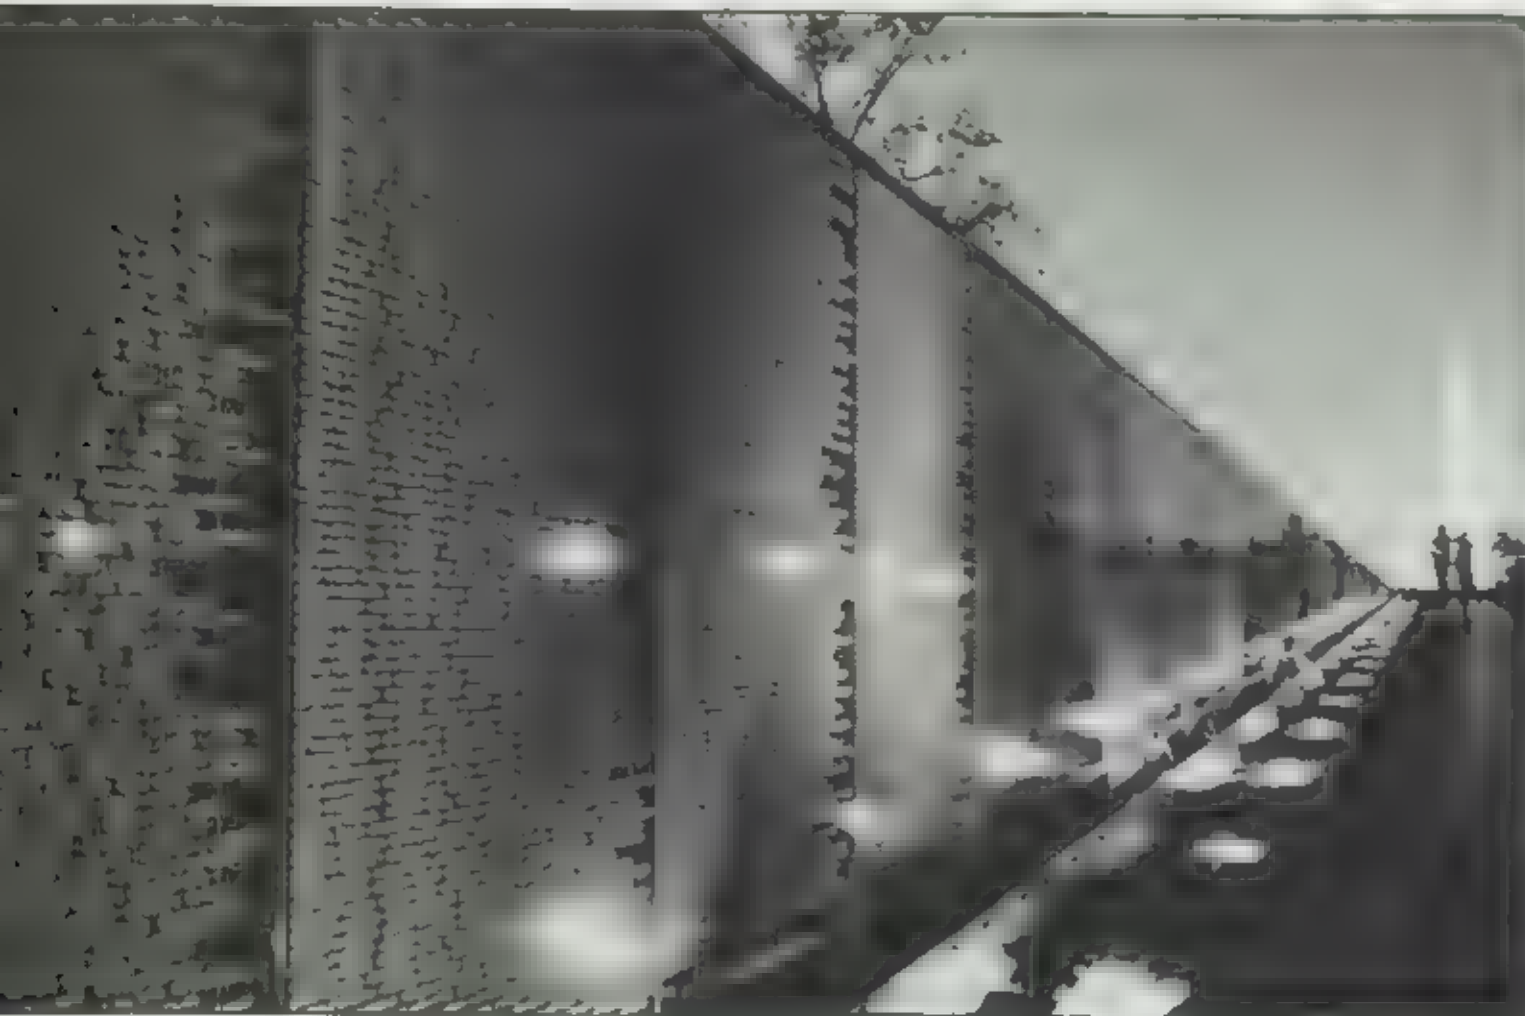

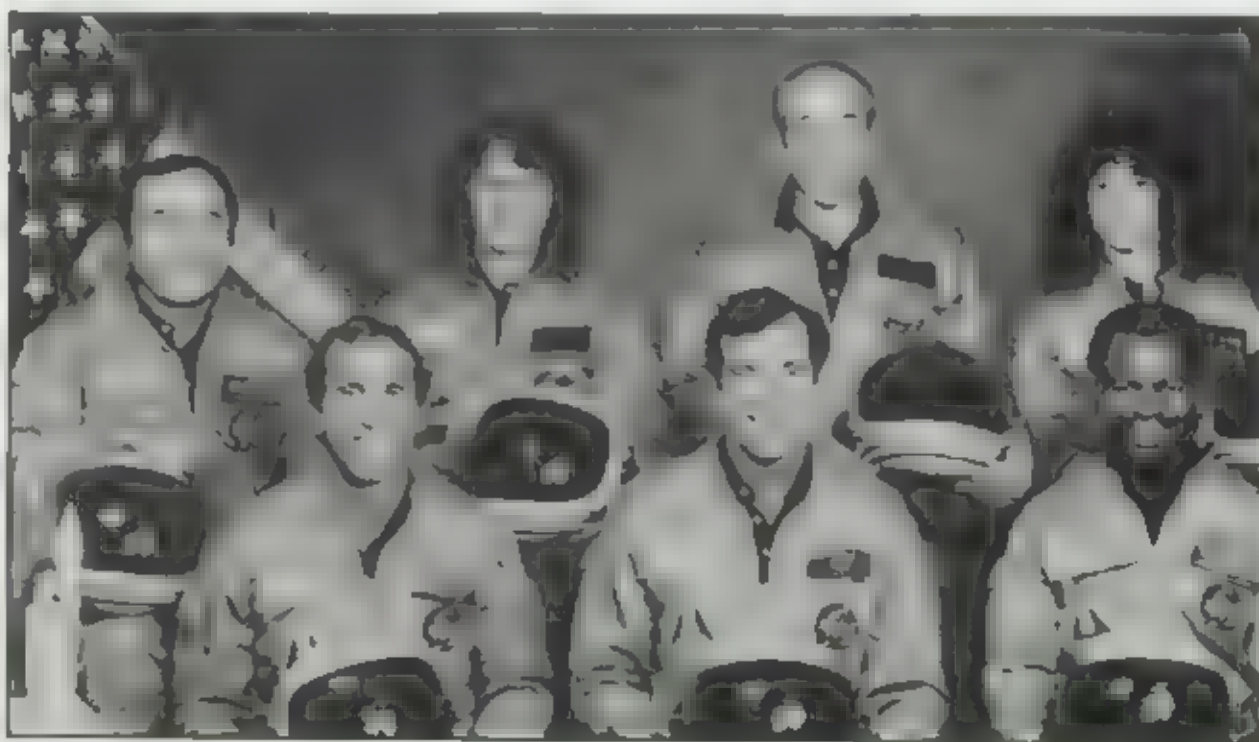

"I think Continually on Those who were Truly Great"

"... The names of those who in their lives fought for life,
who wore at their hearts the fire's center.
Born of the sun they traveled a short while towards the sun,
and left the vivid air signed with their honor."

The Challenger astronauts were not the only heroes remembered and mourned this year. The Vietnam Wall was unveiled to honor the people who were killed while fighting for this country.

We honor the Vietnam Vets — for their sacrifice and courage

At The Movies

Academy Award winner or teenage fluff, these were the movies we flocked to in 1985 and 86. Below, seniors review their personal favorites.

Back to the Future

Laura Laine

A very popular comedy of the summer of '85 was Steven Spielberg's Back to the Future. Christopher Lloyd stars as a small town crackpot inventor who builds a plutonium powered time machine, among other things, out of a DeLorean. His only friends are a big sheep dog named Einstein and a seventeen year old senior named Marty McFly, played by Family Ties' Michael J. Fox. McFly's visits to the inventor are ways of escaping from his loser siblings, alcoholic mother and failure father. After a series of mishaps, Marty ends up being sent 30 years back to his parents' teenage years. Marty meets his parents as high school seniors and finds his mother-to-be, played well by Lea Thompson, falling for him and his father-to-be, (Crispin Glover) a tall skinny wimp. The events that take place while McFly tries to reverse his father's weakling image are well-acted, funny and original. Michael J. Fox is his usual clean cut self while Crispin Glover makes his character the butt of all jokes with his slicked hair and dangling arms. Directors Robert Zemeckis and Bob Gale made the film consistently engaging and truly ingenious.

Rocky IV

Hope Singer

No one was terribly surprised by the rather predictable plot or outcome of Rocky IV. But, no one wanted to miss the ever popular Sylvester Stallone, better known as Rocky Balboa. Rocky still has the same rough, uneducated mannerisms and speech, only this time he also has insight. Apollo tries to explain to him why he wants to fight the Russian. Rocky sees through Apollo's rationalization and says to him, "You think that maybe this fight is you against you?"

It's Apollo's need for immortality and his desire to hang on to his career and fame which eventually causes his death. Rocky is devastated by Apollo's death, but more than that he is angry. He agrees to fight the Russian, Drago. Only the Russians have one stipulation; the fight must be in Russia. The rest of the plot is familiar. Both Drago and Rocky are shown training. Rocky, under primitive and harsh conditions. Drago with the most advanced equipment. Obviously, Rocky defeats Drago in the end. Although the Russians were not given a very good image throughout the movie, this was corrected at the end of the fight scene. The Russian consulate stands up and applauds for the American. Maybe the movie is trying to make a valid point that Russia and the United States can co-exist together if they truly want to.

Hannah and Her Sisters

Liz Scherr

Hannah and Her Sisters explored the relationships of siblings and parents, love and marriage, and the meaning of life. In the metropolitan setting of New York, Woody Allen captured the chaotic but beautiful spirit of city life as well as the ever present unresolved conflicts of people living together. Hannah (Mia Farrow), an undeniably self-sufficient character, becomes lost in self analysis when she discovers that her husband (Michael Caine) lusts after her sister Lee (Barbara Hershey). Meanwhile Lee is trapped by her recluse artist friend and fears the breakage of this bond. A third sister, Holly (Dianne Weist) searches for her niche in the overwhelming city. She imagines nonexistent criticism, passed to her in family conversations, and snorts cocaine while on a date with Woody Allen. But Woody has enough trouble without Holly and her quirky obsessions. Tottering along in his own neurotic world, Woody believes he has some sort of fatal brain disease. He quits his pressure oriented job and while pondering suicide, discovers religion. Finally Woody is free from the arms of death and meets Holly again. Not long after, they get married. The conflicts are resolved and all have found happiness in the turmoil of NYC.

Pretty in Pink

Robin Bova

Take one adorable Andrew McCarthy, one Molly Ringwald and numerous other stars and you should have an excellent movie. Pretty in Pink should have been that flick. Written by John Hughes (16 Candles and Breakfast Club), with music performed by OMD, Suzanne Vega, Echo and the Bunnymen, and the title track by the Psychedelic Furs, it didn't seem it could fail. Ringwald stars as Andie Walsh, a scholarship bound teenager who falls in love with Blaine McDonough (McCarthy), a "richie" from the right side of the tracks. What ensues is a conflict of whether they will go to the prom together. The movie is bolstered by the performances of Anne Potts, as Andie's 60's product friend Iona, who tells Andie not to analyze, but to go, and Harry Dean Stanton, Andie's dad, who is still in love with her mother who left them. Jon Cryer is also marvelous as Andie's devoted friend "Duckie" Dale who performs an outrageous lip synch to Otis Redding. However, something's missing. The division between the wealthy and poor kids appears one dimensional. The plot moves too smoothly and there is none of the foreshadowing or tension of Hughes' earlier movies. On the whole, while Pretty in Pink does not live up to its original expectations, it is an enjoyable and funny movie. It showcases some of Hollywood's upcoming talent, as well as giving us more of the terrors and triumphs of teenagerdom.

The Color Purple

Erin Barrett

Director Steven Spielberg explored new territory with his film The Color Purple, based on the Pulitzer prize winning novel by Alice Walker. The Color Purple deals with the experience of the black women in rural southern America during the first half of the twentieth century. When Celie is wedded to the oppressed Mr. C, she is separated from the one she loves most, her sister Nettie, a missionary in Africa, by her brutal husband, whom she refers to only as "Mr." "Mr." confiscates the letters Nettie religiously writes to her sister, never allowing Celie to read them, or even know that Nettie is still alive. Oprah Winfrey is both touching and humorous as the strongwilled Sophia, whose spirit is shattered by a cruel white society. Only after Celie finally asserts herself as a person does Sophia regain the spunk and determination she first attempted to impress upon Celie. From the time the audience is first introduced to the child Celie, pregnant by her stepfather and laughing joyfully in a field of purple flowers with her sister Nettie, Celie's transformation prevails. The true message of the film is best summarized by Shug, a sensual blues singer. While walking through the field of flowers, Shug tells Celie that God gets angry when people walk by the color purple and don't notice it. Trees, flowers, people, colors do everything they can to get something to love them. Everything just wants to be loved.

Bruce: The Boss

Leisure Time Fun

The Average student spends about 8 hours a day involved with school and school activities. The rest of the time he's on his own. The things we do to relax reange from the ordinary to the absurd. Music is always a big favorite of Clarkstown students. Whether it's Madonna, The Violent Femmes or Motley Crue, everyone has his own special beat to help him unwind. Bruce Springsteen is a big crowd pleaser and his concert tour packed stadiums all around the world. Television is another favorite pastime of students with some free time on their hands. Besides Soap Operas, Sports Events and MTV, there are many programs on the air that appeal to the teen audience. Many students set aside a special night for TV viewing: Thursdays. In fact some can even be heard begging their teachers, "No tests on Friday. Thursday's television night!" NBC's popular Thursday lineup of The Cosby Show, Family Ties, Cheers and Night Court, can keep teens glued to their sets for hours.

TAG Time

Some students tried to introduce a little leisure time fun into their regular school day. They started their own version of TAG (The Assassination Game) around school. A small group of students participated and they could be seen stalking each other around school for several days. The winner, Vinnie Walker, received the pot of money made up of each players entrance fee.

Steve Bertisch and Miles Kassir demonstrate the TAG "kill."

It was a year of many ups and downs in Professional sports. There were great triumphs such as the Chicago Bears in the Superbowl and the Kansas City Royals in the World Series. Pete Rose made baseball history when he got his 4,192 hit to break Ty Cobb's long standing record. There were also great disappointments in 1985 and '86. Two New York baseball teams that just missed going all the way and hockey teams that didn't always live up to their potential. Victories or defeats, however, this will be a year to remember in sports.

You've Got to Start Somewhere . . .

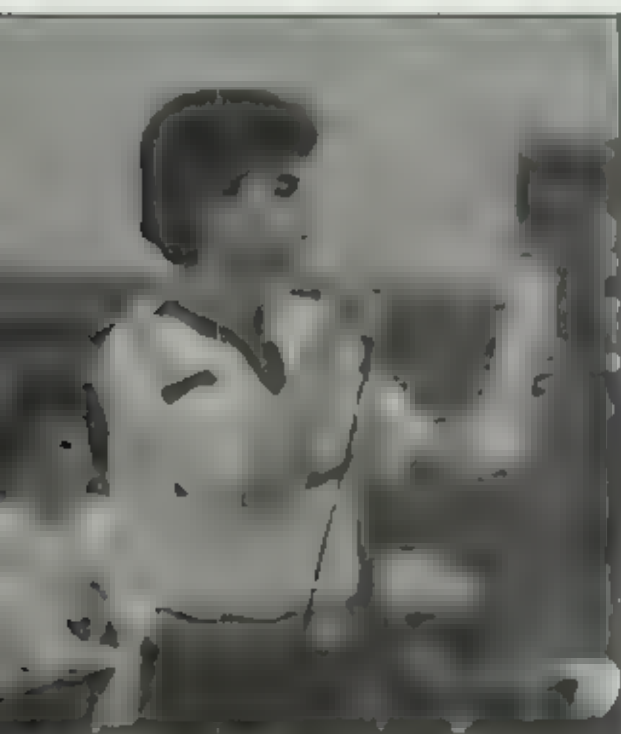

Clarkstown's own Boys Hockey team defeated arch rival Clarkstown South to bring home the Gold Cup. It was the first time in several years that North has won the cup. Standouts on the team this year include Seniors Scott Felenstein and Frank Sahano.

Enormous crowds turned out when the Interact club sponsored the first faculty-student volleyball game. Students flocked to the event to watch their favorite teachers in action. The Match was close and exciting with each team winning one game to set up a show down in the final game. The faculty managed to win the third game by a small margin to capture the trophy.

Teachers participating included Mr. Davis, Ms. Hirshfeld, Ms. Barbier, Mr. Diamond, Ms. Bellushi, Mr. Cummings,

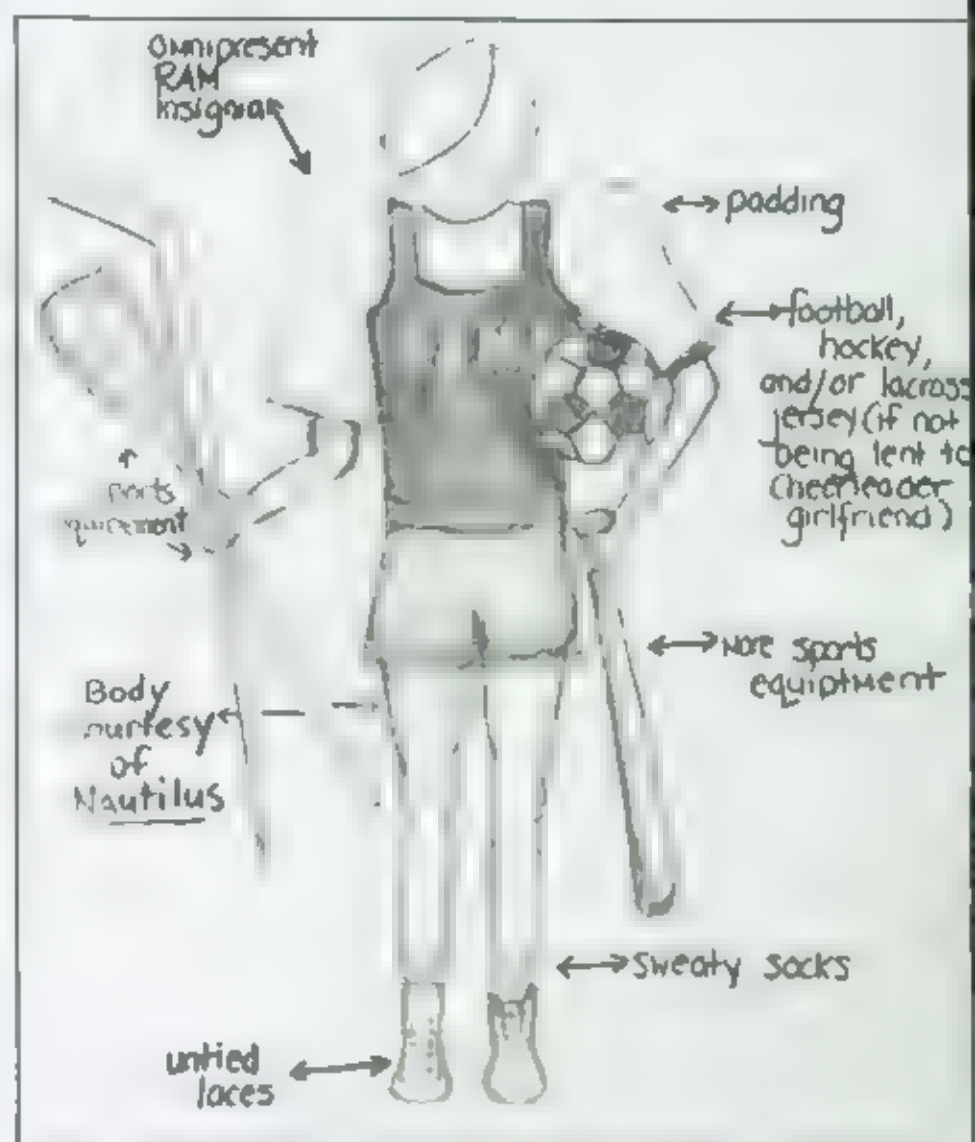

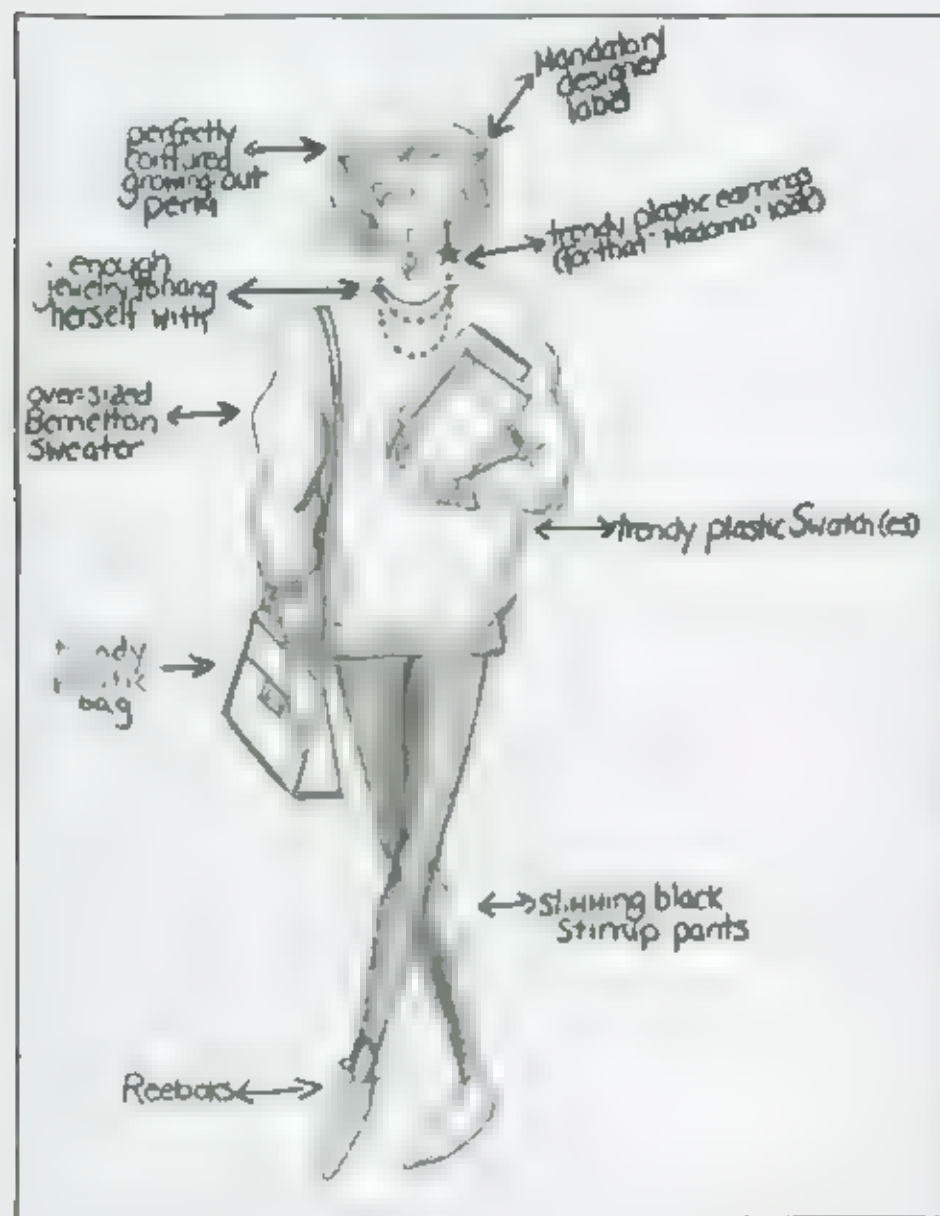

Mr. Toscano, Mr. Heidemann, and Mr. McConogley. They played against a student team made up of members of the senior class. Everyone involved enjoyed the event immensely. "It was a lot of fun to play," said Mr. Diamond. "And it was even more fun to win!" The students appeared to be enjoying themselves too, despite their loss. Judging from spectator reaction it appears that most would like this to be an annual event. As one student put it, "How often do you get to see your teacher in shorts!"

Words slipped from her mouth in a language she didn't under-

She sold the whore, watching

Her mind sang strange melodies

ACADEMICS

Academics is more than just classrooms. It's students and faculty working together to achieve excellence. It's more than just the three R's. It's learning new languages from Latin to Basic. It's class trips. It's learning American Law by participating in a mock trial. It's tool-making in Anthropology class. It's experiments in lab. It's more than just ordinary. It's UNMISTAKABLY NORTH!

Who ever said a beautiful school was needed for a sufficient academic environment was wrong. This year we proved that it takes more than a little reconstruction to upset our academic standards. Inside and outside the classroom students spend most of their time preparing for life after highschool. Some go to Boces, some take special business courses and others struggle through their SAT's preparing for college. What ever the case, students at CHSN are taught to set high goals and strive for them.

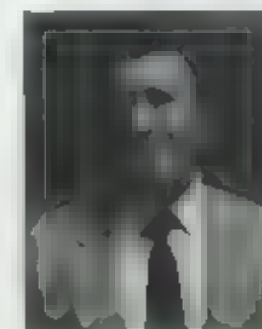

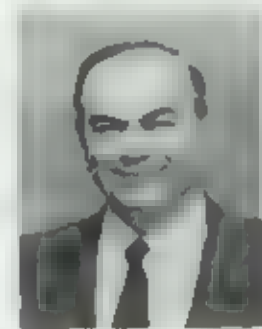

Realizing Potential

On September 3rd, Dr. John Krause, Clarkstown's new superintendent of Schools, welcomed the district's staff members to the 1985-86 school year. In his opening remarks he acknowledged the excellent school system, but indicated more needs to be done "to realize its full potential." He outlined three basic beliefs which he feels are necessary for the "full strength and stability of the organization." First Mr. Krause stressed the importance of the Board of Education, administration, teaching staff, and parent/teacher associations. All must work together for a common cause; serving the students. Secondly, he stressed the importance of respect and fairness among the staff. A sense of commitment and pride should prevail over the entire staff. Finally, he felt that all important authoritative decisions should be made after full and open discussions with those affected. Believing that there is no limit to what the district can accomplish, since it has available an abundance of talent, know-how and dedication, he sees the need "to bring together this tremendous potential and permit it to focus into the united force it represents."

FOCUS: AP ENGLISH

As juniors we were warned "Beware of Mrs. Scalera's AP English class," but when arena scheduling roled around we closed our eyes and, with a not so steady hand, signed our name on the dotted line. The experience had begun. From the first day all were expected to act like college students. "This isn't high school anymore." said Mrs. Scalera. She treats the course as a professor would so that students are fully prepared for their first year of English at college. The curriculum is made up of college level literature and extensive writing. By the end of the year students all agree that taking this course while still in high school is to their advantage. First, the classes are small, and class discussions are frequent. Second, students can get to know their teacher on an individual basis. Mrs. Scalera is always more than happy to see a student in need of her help. Finally, students taking this course in high school will have one less worry while adjusting to college life.

Both students and teachers have had their share of heartaches when it comes to the library. All are anxiously awaiting the glorious two story library with plenty of work space, AV projection room, ample supply of books, and skylights. In the mean time our librarians are forced to cram two libraries into one. In between all the moaning and whining Ms. Faust and Ms. Morisseau manage to satisfy everyone.

As students go through high school their visits to the library become more frequent. The new library will centralize the two smaller libraries and students will have a more efficient and appealing place to go for work and leisure.

CHALLENGED STUDENTS

DO YOU REALLY UNDERSTAND?

Why do people tease me?

Do they really understand who I am?

Do you really understand that when you tease me, it makes tears drip down my face?

Do you really understand that you are wasting your time teasing me?

Do you really understand what it's like to be teased?

Do you really understand that I am not weird or strange?

Do you really know what it's like to be in my shoes?

Do you really understand why it takes time for me to learn the things you do?

Do you really understand why some of us can do better than others in sports?

Do you really understand how much it would mean to me if I won a trophy for academics or athletics?

Do you really know what it's like to be in a special class?

Do you really understand why I am disappointed when people confuse me with being physically handicapped?

Do you really understand that I am not physically handicapped?

Do you really understand that I am mentally challenged?

Do you really understand that I want to be treated like everyone else?

Do you really understand that I want to be treated with respect and dignity?

Do you really understand that I wish to be independent one day?

Do you really understand that I like to laugh when things are funny to me?

Do you really understand that I have dreams just like everyone else?

Do you really know what it's like to be lonely and without friends?

Do you really understand that I wish to fall in love and perhaps get married?

Do you really understand that I only need a chance to be your friend?

Give me the chance to be your friend and I will prove to you who I really am.

Talk to me

be my friend

make me feel important

Because, after all

I am just like you.

THE BIG CHASE

One can imagine the surprised look on the faces of all the teachers who came into school a week early to organize themselves and found no books. "Who took the book?" The mystery was solved when administration explained that due to construction all the books were stored away in boxes. One can also imagine the surprised look on the faces of the teachers when they realized they were the one's who had to transfer the books from one building to another. Many doubted if they'd be able to organize themselves before school opened, but the teachers all chipped in to get most of the job done. The rest was done on the first day of school. Students thankfully volunteered to help carry books during the morning periods. But in the afternoon teachers had trouble getting volunteers. By sixth period the kids were tired out and preferred to stay in class.

FLOPPY DISK MANIA

We've all seen computers in the Math Department and computers in the Business Department, but this is the first time we've seen computers in the English Department. The new course, Applied Computing, is taught by Ms. Hirshfeld and Ms. Werba, and gives students an opportunity to use a computer in the development of writing skills. Students taking this course first learn to type and become familiar with the word processor.

When finally comfortable, students apply what was learned to writing business letters and term papers on the computer. Most importantly, this course enables students to feel more free and creative while doing an assignment. The computer becomes their paper and the keyboard their pen. It is crucial that students become familiar and comfortable with the computer while still in high school. After all, this is the computer age.

Art, the once non-competitive course, is now expanding due to the addition of a new regents action plan. Classes are small, and students are able to work with the teacher individually. Since there are six art courses, ranging from

Studio Art to painting, each student can advance at his own rate and move on to more complex courses when ready. The art classes are designed to teach productivity, independent thinking, and of course, art techniques and skills.

Each year, the New York State School Music Association sponsors the Area All-State Music Festival for those students exhibiting exceptional talent and commitment within their respective areas of Orchestra, Chorus, and Band. Students are recommended initially by their school music directors, and then, through the process of committee evaluation, are selected for participation in the festival music ensembles. This year CHSN proudly sent

21 students to participate From Orchestra: Jennifer Yeh, Daniel Hanchrow, Anne Francomano, Lisa Sylvester, Denise Mortillaro, Margaret Hsu, Matthew Dubin, and Robert Marcario. From Band: Leshe Pressel, Neal Masia, William Stade, Stewart Kong, and Forrest Leighton. MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE

The task, seemed simple enough: a cardboard bridge as large as was wanted for a project in AP physics. No problem, right? Wrong! There were several catches: 1. The cardboard had to be corrugated — not fiber reinforced. 2. There could be no fasteners — no glue, no tape, no string. 3. The bridge could not exceed .88 pounds. 4. A cutout arch 50 cm. long, 2 cm. wide and 10 cm. high had to be able to pass underneath in order to ensure the structure resembled a bridge. The grading was as follows: anyone who filled the above requirements received 70 pts. If the structure held 30 lbs. the student got 80 pts. For holding 60 lbs., 85 pts. were received and for 90 lbs., 90 pts. In each class the winner got 100 pts., second place 97 pts., and third received 95 pts. Impossible? No! Did any of these bridges actually hold 90 lbs? Yes. In fact the top three scores were Art Stahl — 125 lbs., Al Santangelo — 120 lbs., and Joe Saloway — 115 lbs.

It just goes to show that nothing — not even AP physics — is impossible.

GETTING SOCIAL

AP Humanities is not your ordinary social studies class. It is actually the combination of two AP classes. Mr. Diamond teaches European history, beginning with the Renaissance and following directly through the 19th century. At the same time Mrs. Fox teaches the literature that corresponds to the period of time being studied. At the end of the year students are fully prepared for both the AP in composition and literature and also the

AP in European history.

The course is one of the more difficult but also one of the more enjoyable. Students are challenged and are expected to hand in college level material, but just as Mrs. Fox and Mr. Diamond provide a lot of hard work they also provide a lot of laughs. In the fall the class went to the Metropolitan Museum of Modern Art. The day was both a learning experience and a great time.

Tribute To A Teacher

In 1965 Virginia Freeman came to Clarkstown North in search of a job as an English teacher. Little did she know she would remain here for twenty-one years.

As the years went by Mrs. Freeman grew more accustomed to life at CHSN and by 1969 she had become the advisor of the school's literary magazine, Et Cetera. Under her guidance, the magazine earned a first place rating every year. In fact, in 1982 it won the gold medal. After the 1983 edition she resigned as advisor, leaving to the magazine many editions that would be hard to equal.

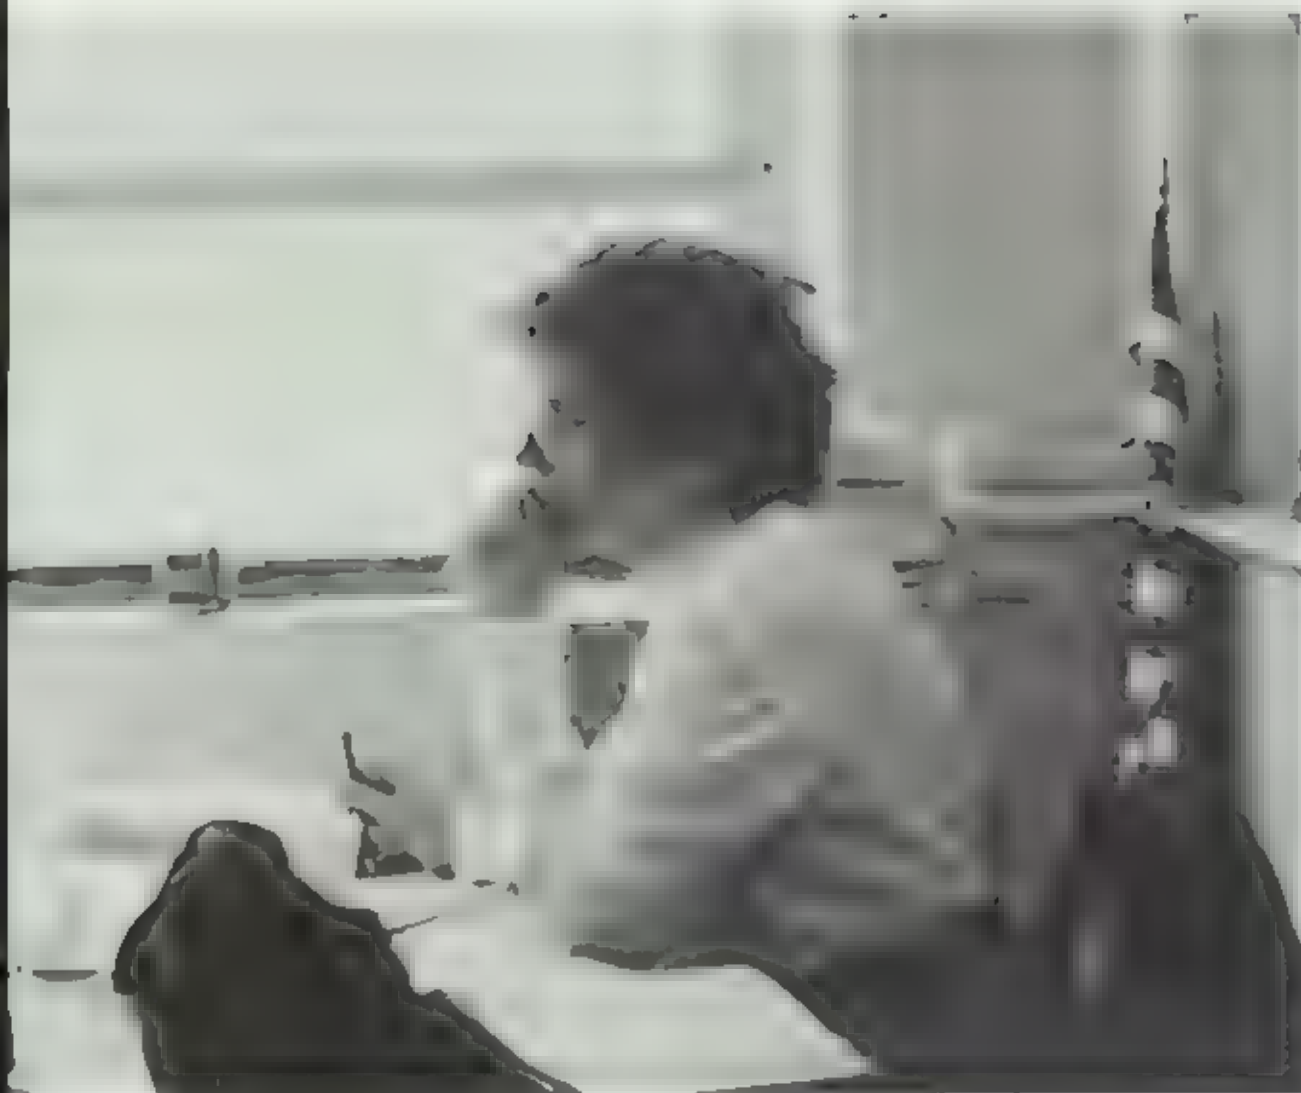

Not one to be idle for long, Mrs. Freeman then organized a branch of the Rockland County Forensic League.

1986 will be Mrs. Freeman's last year. Her retirement will be a great loss to all students. Clarkstown North will miss you, Virginia Freeman.

Behind the scenes at Clarkstown North the Guidance Department has designed various projects and activities. Last September, Ms. Lombardi formed a group called The Ninth Grade Newcomers Group which inabled ninth grade transfer students to become familiarized with life at North. The program was successful and will eventually expand to include students from all grades who transfer into North.

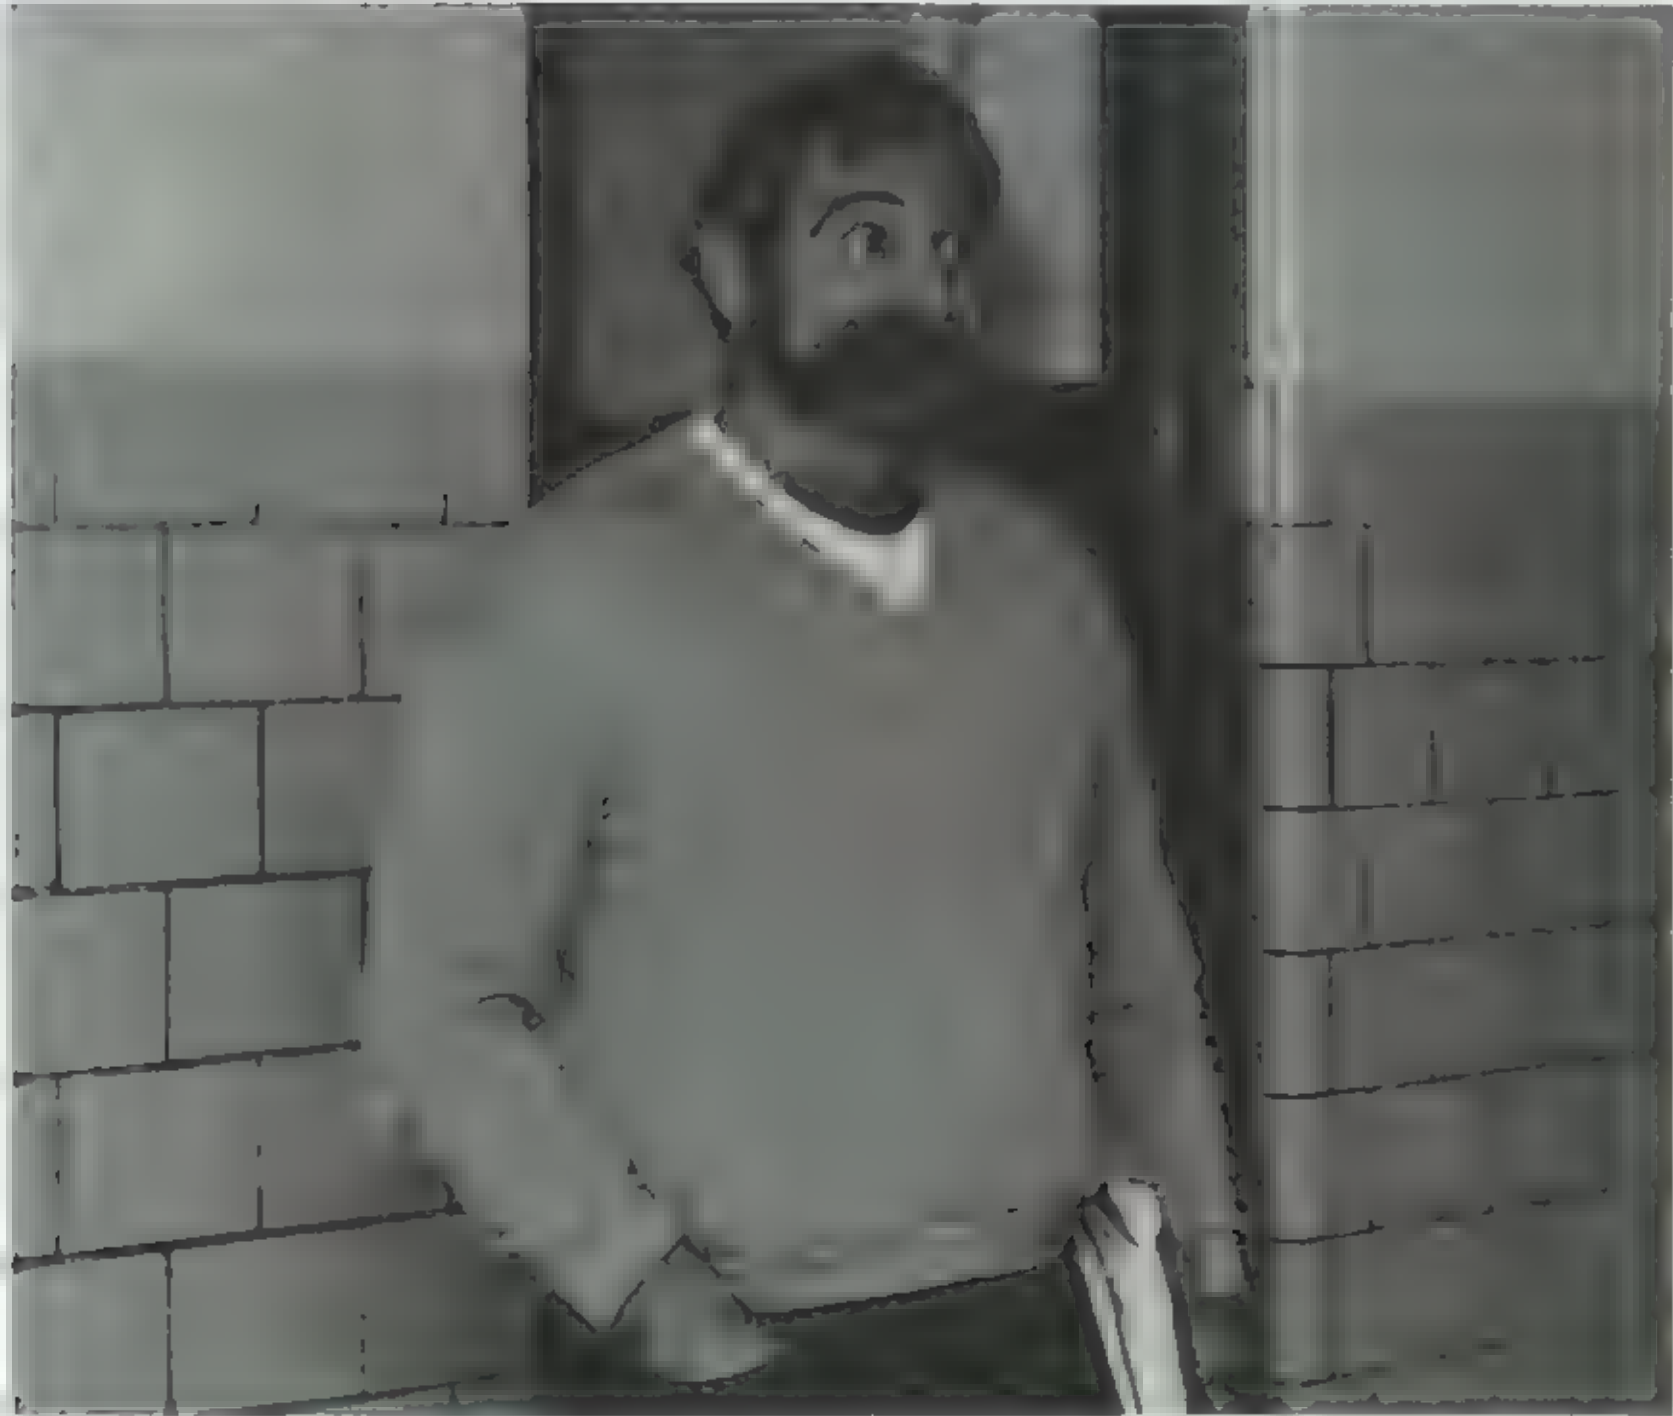

A college night was held by the Guidance Department, giving Juniors and Seniors information about various colleges. To follow was Financial Aid Night for parents.

Under the direction of Mr. MacFarland a program called Project Transition helped students find jobs after leaving high school, and Olympics of the Mind focused on special advisement for gifted students in the elementary and junior high schools. Mr. Maloney also organized a workshop for mental health resources for those in need.

Definition — Physical Education; A class easily cut when not in the mood to run around outside in two degree weather.

For the first time, CHSN has put an end to this definition making it a mere memory of the good old days. The new system continuously threatens the student to either go to Gym or never graduate. Students simply go to gym and receive .9 points for the day. At the end of each quarter each student's .9's are added up, and if the score is less then the required total, the student fails. So now, "Hurry up, let's cut out and get pizza" has been replaced by, "Hurry up, if I'm late I won't get my .9." Of course the new system has made a noticeable difference in attendance, but on the other hand many seniors found it difficult to drop the old habit.

Parlez-vous Francais?

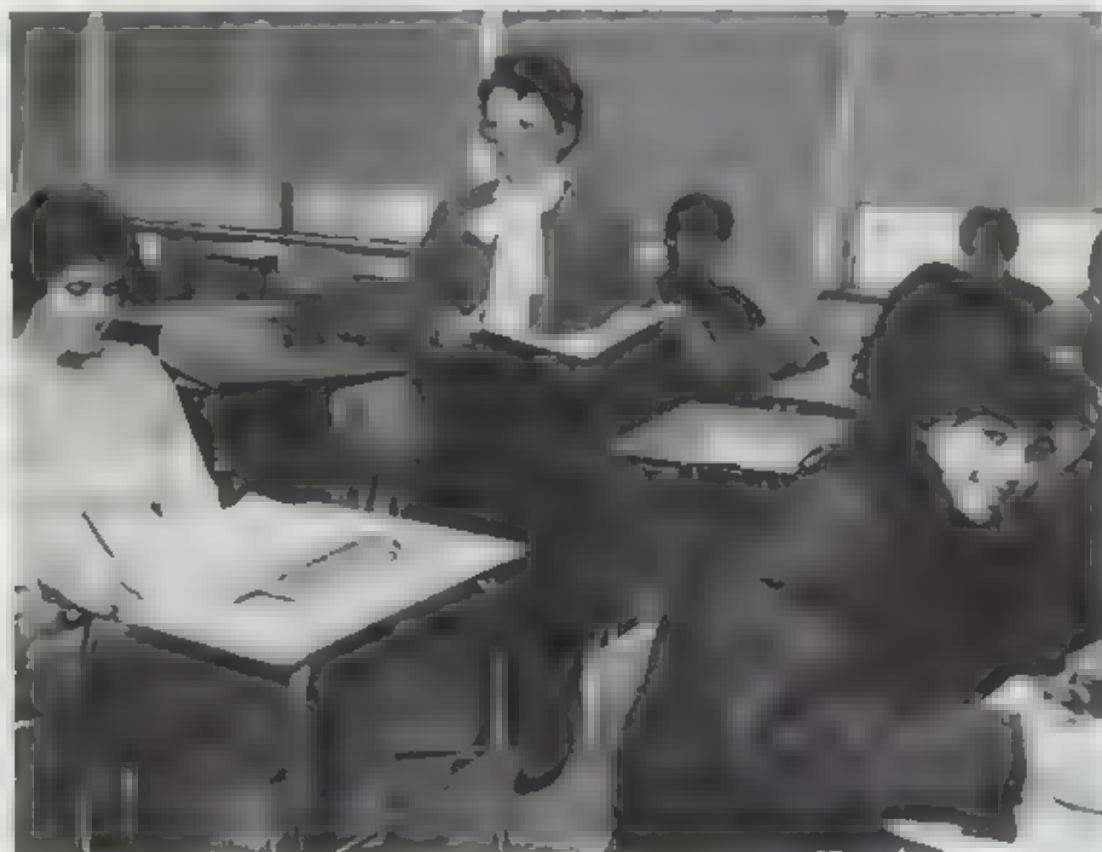

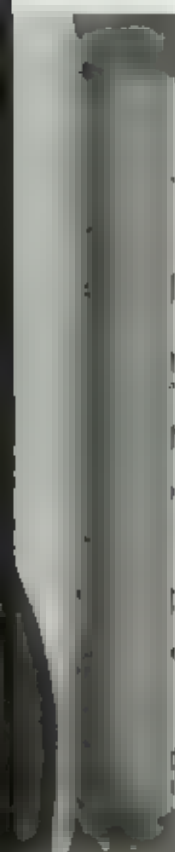

Est-ce que vous voulait une omlette des fromage? Although it is not a required subject, the amount of students taking a foreign language has been increasing steadily over the years. Once again North has arranged an exchange between students from North and students from Aosta, Italy. The Italians spent a fun filled three weeks here, but our students were unable to return to Italy as planned due to problems with foreign relations. Also, Mr. Diglio's French 4 class and Ms. Bellusi's Spanish 4 class set out in the fall to the UN building. Each class took a tour in the language they studied, and then all went to a Spanish restaurant for dinner. Later in the spring the two classes rejoined for a trip to the Metropolitan Museum of Modern Art to study both French and Spanish artists, and this time out to a French restaurant for dinner.

To learn a foreign language is both exciting and rewarding, especially at Unmistakable North!

The "AV Squad" headed by staff technician Karen Beals, was a new organization this year at Clarkstown North High School. Students interested in AV, sound, or video production donated free time during the school day to deliver equipment to classrooms, and to provide help when needed. Squad members also served as sound and video technicians for after school activities, such as: plays, concerts, social activities, and sporting events. Students developed valuable skills, and had fun too. Join us

Musical adness

Run by Mr. Swift, Cue 'N' Curtain put on two wonderful performances this year. We laughed through the senior play "You Can't Take it With You" and sang to ourselves throughout the spring musical "Pippin". Little did we know, North was filled with such talented students and aspiring actors and actresses. We give thanks to Stage Crew run by Mr. Mentz. The scenery and sets were artistic and believable. Someday, our North actors and actresses will be extremely rich and famous. Then we will all be able to say, "I knew them when . . ."

and games. The few students who had enough time after doing their regular Math assignments, found this journal to be a great success. The Mu Alpha Theta's new ideas and the competition within the Math League also "added" excitement to the Mathematics department this year.

*N*ORTH'S *E*WEST

The Teen-Age Republicans formed a new club at Clarkstown North to foster political awareness. With high school students about to reach voting age, it is important that they understand the political process. TARS brings students together with similar ideas to discuss and debate national and inter-national issues. During elections, club members work for and meet with Republican candidates to learn how one is elected. The club's members feel the Republican parties' principles share their view of a responsible government. They hope to spread this belief through the school or at least break down party stereotypes. They are confident in their goals for as President David Parker put it, "We shall overcome someday!"

The yearbook staff was busy, busy, busy making layouts, writing copy, and snapping pictures. But with so much to do, they had no time to sell their "masterpieces".

The circulation staff came to the rescue. Members stayed in the ticket booth selling yearbooks during the two lunch periods. Early bird specials at $28 were taken advantage of by many North students. Some, however, missed that deadline and had to pay the regular price. However, every "Unmistakably North" student would agree that it was worth the price.

Who's that junior girl snapping away at her camera when we're sleeping in class, going for the high jump, or messing up the chem. lab? It's our favorite North photographer, Vicki Sackser. (Above Left)

Interact has proven to be a club of people who care for the needy and the community in which we live. For years, the club has worked with the handicapped, held holiday food drives, and even sponsored a blood drive, where students as well as teachers unselfishly donated blood. This year the club also took an active interest in helping the elderly. Members attended an old age home, where they made new friends and showed that they cared. All these activities and more were successfully completed by the interact club. The organization, advised by Mrs. Faust, is one of the many clubs at North truly showing what the students here are all about. They reach out to help their community, and we are proud of what they are doing.

VIVA VITALIA!

This year's Italian club started out with the annual spaghetti eating contest. Everyone enjoyed watching North students stuff their faces with pasta and more pasta. At first it was fun, but as some students found out, too much spaghetti can ruin one's appetite!

Another exciting event was welcoming the Italian students from Italy and visiting New York. These students housed with North students and were made to feel right at home by the Italian club and others. The Italian club, run by Mrs. Serreti, (otherwise known as Momma), had a very exciting year. Now that's Italian!!

Adios a Senora Hirsch. Hola a Senora Barnes. This year's Spanish club welcomed a new leader, Mrs. Barnes. With President Steven Weill, and Vice-President Jennifer Gamm, the 1985-86 Spanish club was a great success. Selling candy, making dinners, and going on trips, were just some of the "old" traditions this "new" Spanish club kept going. An old club with new ideas made this year's Spanish club muy bien.

Just like every language club, the German club consists of members who took an active interest in their organization this year. Although the number of students belonging didn't quite equal the number of members belonging to the Spanish or Italian clubs, the German club members did manage to take trips to German restaurants and organize other activities.

Safe-ride by SADD

This year's students against drunk driving started a "Safe Ride" program. This program does exactly that. It offers a safe ride home for those who become too drunk to drive.

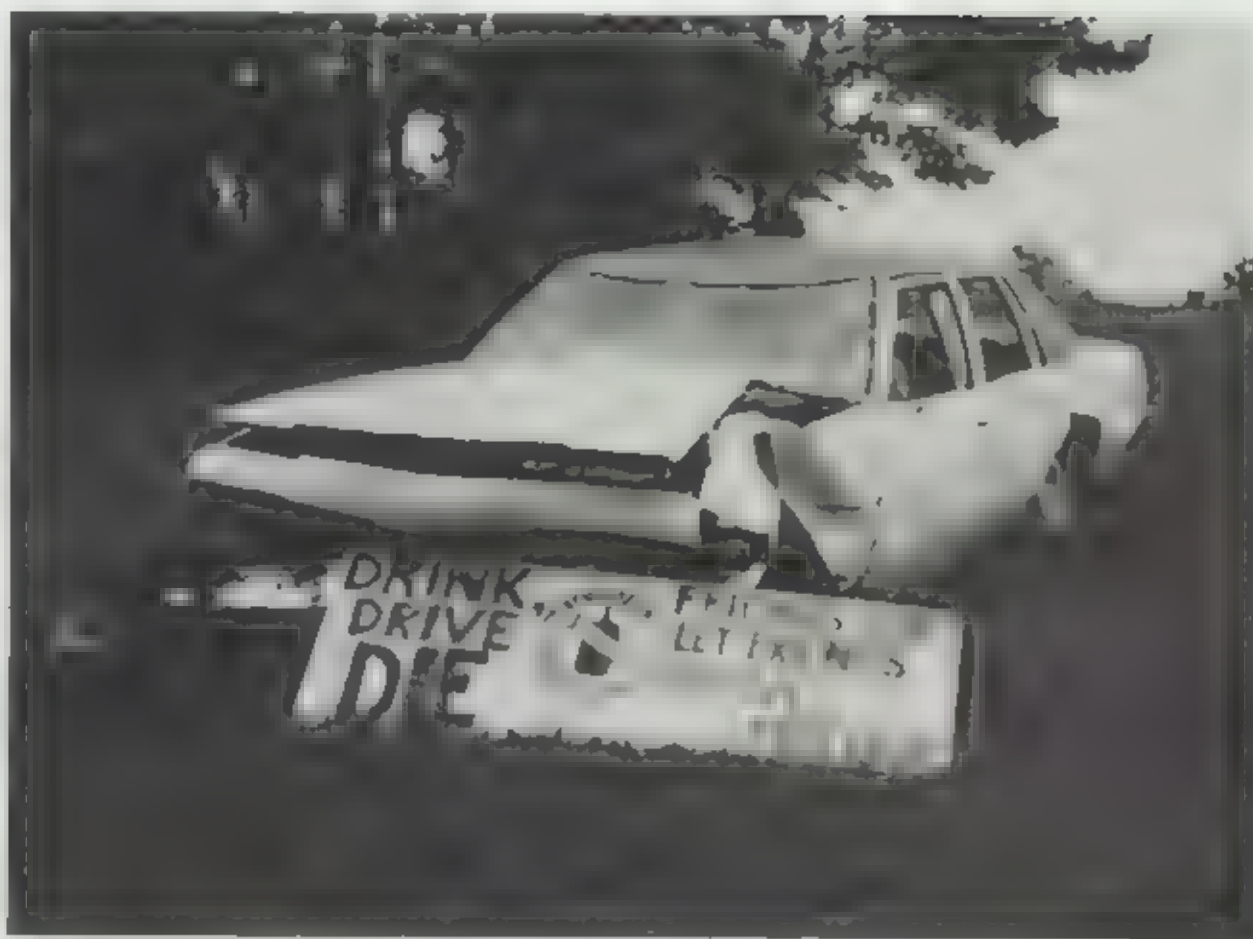

After renting a room on Main Street and installing phones, the club began its program. Every Friday and Saturday night from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. adults and students wait to receive calls and then pick up those in need of a safe ride home. Although there were many prank calls from those who were too ignorant to take this helpful program seriously, Safe Ride was nevertheless a great success. We owe many thanks to Miss Mandel, Mrs. Mancuso, the students, and parents for all the late nights and hard work they put into this program.

KIDS IN OMMAND

Just as in the U.S. government, we elect our leaders and hope that they will carry out their duties. The student council, advised by Mr. Suchy, proved to do so and more. They helped provide an orientation for the incoming Freshman class, and managed to raise quite a bit of money. From football game concessions and the Homecoming Dance, to the Battle of the Bands (which was completely sold out), the Student Council, as well as their officers, class officers, and student delegates, proved that we have made a wise choice

Having trouble in your classes? Then it's time to get a tutor. Here at North, students who maintain a good average in a subject may sign up to tutor. These students dedicate their time to help other students. Mrs. Winer, the organizer of the tutoring squad, arranges the jobs, but afterwards the tutors are on their own. Students from both North and South belong to this organization and take pride in what they are doing. "It's a good feeling to know you're helping someone," said one North tutor, "and the money I earn isn't bad either."

EARLY ENTREPRENEURS

New this year is North's own Deca Club. Students participate and learn about all aspects of the business world. Getting off with a slow start, the first business organization at North soon became another one of our many active clubs. Some members even took a trip to the Concord Hotel to participate in a Deca convention. Many schools across the county also attended.

Mrs. Cacciola organized a promising club whose future looks bright and "busy."

ACADEMIC ACHIEVERS

This year's Academic Team has followed the precedent set by former teams in achieving championship status. This is due to the various talents of the members. Each offers his strength for a subject to the success of the team. In giving match exposure to a number of members, the team receives its strength. The starting team includes sophomore Paul Aroughet, junior Eric Legritold, and seniors Ron Vogel and James Shaw. The other senior members, who act as alternates, are Steven Bertisch, Mike McCabe, and Andrew Thomases. The team looks forward to its third consecutive year as season champs and hopes as well as to win the tournament trophy, which it has not won since 1983.

Everyone, without a doubt, dreads taking the scholastic aptitude test. Many students either perform well on the math or verbal section. But both? These students must be pretty special. A National Merit Scholarship winner must possess this rare quality. Only 1% of students across this country achieve this. A student receiving a 1350 on both the PSAT and SAT can qualify to be a winner. It is almost impossible; however, we are proud to say that some of our North students qualify for this scholarship.

Dedication, good study habits, and hard work are just some of the great qualities these honor students possess. With old and new faces, the honor society was in A+ condition at this year's induction. With big confident smiles, the new honor students were inducted, and the old ones honored. And one thing for sure, there are promising futures for them all.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Every student has been one and we all share the memories: The first day in a HUGE new school, Trying to find our classrooms without having to ask someone, Joining clubs and sports, Picking out a school ring, Dances, Exams, S.A.T.'s, and Finals. Each year we're a step closer to that magical Senior Year, but being an Underclassman isn't so bad. In fact, it's pretty good.

DON'T LEAVE NORTH WITHOUT IT

Time is moving fast. For the past four years, we have been Unmistakably North, but now it's time to move on. It seems like only yesterday when we arrived in September, after an amazing summer vacation, eager to begin our "Senior Year". But you cannot leave North without:

1. illegally parking your car and then getting it towed.
2. cutting at least one period a day in your senior year.

3. having your class disturbed by the sound of a chainsaw.

4. going outside for gym in 20 degree weather.

5. eating the cafeteria food.

6. thinking of 101 ways to get out of taking your math test

7. sneaking into the teachers' room to use the Xerox or candy machines

8. trying to close the windows that are permanently open in the winter and open the windows that are permanently shut in the spring.

9. putting off writing your college applications

10. trying to find Rm. 25

11. going to class and finding no room there

... But most of all don't leave North without remembering the laughs, the tears, and the wild and crazy times we've shared together. The class of '86 will always remain together in our hearts — we won't leave each other behind

BEYOND CONGERS ROAD

Yes, there is a life beyond Congers Rd. — a life quite different than the one inside C.H.S.N. In school, you will find us "going to class on time, listening very attentively and always doing our work" — but when the bell rings at the end of the day, a sudden transformation takes place. The adrenalin starts to flow, voices start to rise, and the parking lot begins to fill with swarms of people.

Some go off to their jobs — Friendly's, Sportsfoot, Carvel — while the others follow them in order to get things for free. The third group has already been home for three hours, eaten their tenth meal, and watched the daily episodes of every soap opera on T.V. Then boredom starts to set in. They hop in the car and hit Rocco's, New

City Pizza or Bennigan's.

However, Friday is when the excitement begins. The entire day is taken to figure out the big plans for the weekend and everyone gets psyched.

For the unmistakable senior, school is not a full time job — he definitely leads a very eventful life beyond Congers Road.

'86 PSYCHE

President: Steven
Weill
Vice: Laurie Dubin
Treasurer: Laura
Gallina
Secretary: Sue
Friedman
Advisor Mrs. Mott

Now that we're seniors and leaving our high school days behind, we look back on Freshman year — scared and alone: where's the Main? ... making new friends ... the first annual Superdance ... doughnut sales ... tight jeans, swe'dores, and the tuxedo look were in ... Danielle, Margie, Seth and Darren were our class officers ... it's only the beginning ... getting into the swing of things and looking forward to being ...

Sophomores — no longer the babies of the school but still stuck in the annex ... the Valley Girls and the Flashdance look ... a Ram football victory over South ... Ayelet, Steven, Jennifer, and Lisa lead our class ... the '84 Olympics ... Sweet 16's ... key ring sales ... getting our class rings ... we're feeling older now that we're ...

Juniors — finally in the Main ... our holiday dinner and the pizzathon ... P.S.A.T.'s basketball fever at the Brendon Byrne Arena ... driver's permits and licenses ... Ayelet and Steven continue their jobs and we elect Laurie and Laura ... S.A.T.'s ... the big night — Junior Ball — "Lost in Love" ... presenioritis has hit us ... the time has come, we're finally ...

Seniors — so many changes ... construction parking spots??? ... Steven, Laurie, and Laura returned and Sue joined the ranks ... college applications ... decisions to be made not so easy after all ... Hat Day and Halloween ... Senior luncheon ... senioritis has definitely set in ... spring break ... senior cut day ... the picnic ... the night we dreamed about for four years — THE PROM

PERSONALS

The single most important thing to students at C.H.S.N. is friendship. The memories we share with those close to us are very special, the kind of memories we want to save forever.

The Personals section of our yearbook gives us that chance, a place to leave special messages that are personal, a little silly, and always UNMISTAKABLY NORTH.

I'll always remember those people who created Saga '86. You should all be proud. I know you'll all remember the crazy days of deadlines and I hope you'll remember:

WENDY: "I hate Yearbook" (After one week)

MICHELE: "Can I have a fresh proper cropper?"

JENNIFER: "I dreamed about 1,000 blank pages of ads"

ANDY: "You're discouraged now? Wait til next year?"

CRAIG: "Congradulations on empty envelopes"

BILL: "I just took 100 pictures — without film"

MATT: "You're de-editorized — AGAIN!"

STEVE: "We don't have a deadline til February"

RICH: "Did we get football pictures yet?"

JAMES: "I don't have any pictures"

LISA: "Did we get proofs? Battle of ... the bands"

LAURIE and SHERYL: "Why can't we make our own superlatives?"

BONNIE and CARIN: "Did you do Student Council yet?"

NEIL: "Is there anything for me to index?"

VICKI: "You're a baby"

JILL: "Genevieve"

GAIL: "Mr. Speranza lost my layouts"

STACY: "Organization is the key to yearbook"

MINDY & PAULA: "Should we be doing something now?"

EVAN: "It's not my fault"

GOOD LUCK TO SAGA '87

- Peggy McCarthy, Editor-in-Chief

CM (Birdie) —

Well ... It's been an experience. I'll always remember

Rejected layouts — Congratulations — D-Days — Gay copy — Carbonized — Editors are bums — the U.C. disaster — overselling ads — Saga's new look — Mono strikes the staff — Where's our proofs? — Battle of ... the Band — The missing $20,000 (It wasn't h.s. fault) — Blank pages in the middle of the book. Good Answer (Clap-Clap)

It's been exasperating, exhausting, annoying, and frustrating. It's also been alot of smiles and fun. I'm really proud of what we created. (the monster we created) I'll never forget the crazy days or the support you gave me that kept me sane. (Well, almost)

Thanks for Everything
I love Ya!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Josh

Mom & Dad,

Everytime that you say you love me or tell me you're proud of me, I get a funny feeling in my stomach. I've finally figured out what that feeling is. It's love, a love that only a family like ours can share. In our case, it's a love that has grown in a special way because it was a miracle that brought us together.

You've held my hand through every step of the way, from the crib to the prom, and I will never forget the caring and understanding you gave me along the way. We've seen a lot of tears and laughter come and go these past 17 years and each time holds a special memory. For each of these memories here's a hug and a kiss, and now it's my turn to say, I'm proud to have you as parents. When you've got the best, you can't ask for more. I LOVE YOU!!

Your Little Girl, Wendy

Dear Mom and Dad,

After all that's been said and done, I've almost run out of words to express how special you are to me. You've brought me life, and shown me how to live, love, and laugh. Thanks for always being there to share the good, and the bad. I love you!

Love, Lisa (PC)

To the best brother

Josh, always remember, and never forget, that I love you, and will be here for you forever.

Love, Lisa

Dear Michele,

The years have gone by so quickly... from a little girl you have grown into a lovely young woman. As you go out into the world, may life bring you love, happiness, good health and success. We are very proud of you and we love you. Mom, Dad, Howard & Robert

You bring joy to all who know you,
With your laughter, your warmth, and your smile.

Caring and loving and sharing
In your own extraordinary style.

We're proud, delighted, and excited
And congratulate you again and again.

With love forever and always
To our wonderful and special Lauren.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and David

Dear Mom and Dad,

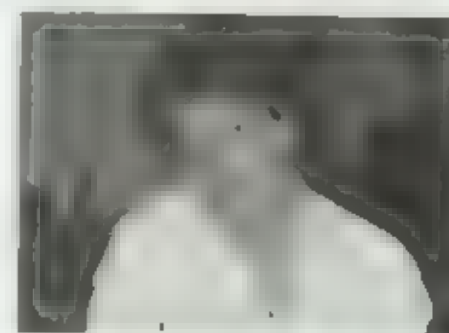

Thank you so much for all your understanding, encouragement, support, and most of all your love. You have always been there for me when I've needed you. You are the absolute best!"

Dear Howard and Robert,

Well, not many girls get a second set of parents as amazing as you guys! We have had so many great times together. No matter how many miles have separated us, we have always remained close (solidernos). Thank you both for being such terrific big brothers!

I LOVE YOU,

Michele

your helpfulness, and most important, your love. Thanks for always being there when I needed
you. If it wasn't for you, I don't know how I would have handled the bad times. You have taught me how to make the best of it by somehow, always making me smile. Jimmy, you're the best thing that ever happened to me and I love you forever.

There is something to be said about being so close to each other. You are not only a sister to me but a best friend too. Whenever I needed a shoulder to cry on or a person to laugh with, I always knew that if I turned around you would be there for me. There will never be enough memories or words to describe the times that we've spent together. Thank you for being such a great big sister.

I love you.

Dear Darren,

You've always been there for me and I love you for it. I may never say it, but I do. You're a special brother. "One of a kind." It's going to be different without my big brother there. Remember all those nights, "Darren, can I come too?" I'm sure you won't miss that. Now that you'll be going to college and I won't see you as much, I don't want you to forget about "me". I have so much faith in you and I know you'll get where you want in the world. If you ever need someone to talk to "I'm here". Now remember your little sister because I'll always remember my big brother. I love you more than anything in the world. Good luck through college and whatever follows, in your life. Love your little sister, P.S. Can I come too? Felice

 Of how our Kari has made us proud
 Leading the way for the Etter Clan
 Always doing the best you can
 First born, different from the others
 Leading the way for your two brothers
 Now you're graduating high school and college bound
 With new horizons and goals to be found
 You'll continue to lead and try your best
 It's just another journey another test
 Bright and witty with a heart that cares
 You'll always be rewarded through the

TO OUR HEIDI

Dear Heidi,

We have watched you grow into a refreshingly beautiful young lady. You have given us so much joy and happiness. Heidi, as you move into the next phase of your life, be proud of what you have become, and what you will be. We extend our heart and hand in support and love, raise our voices in praise, and know that all who have been part of your life are smiling...

With all our love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Holli,

You have always been my best friend, through the smiles and tears, the lows and highs, someone I could always count on.

Throughout our sixteen years together we have been through millions of talks, much fighting and a lot of growing up! The bond between us is very strong and the love is endless. I'll really miss you when I go away to school, but remember I'll always be here for you if you ever need me. You're the best sister anyone could ask for!

I love you always,
Heidi

Dear Mom and Dad,

There is so much I need to thank you for... You've always been there to hold my hand up high and help me through my troubles. You stood back when I needed to "do it on my own" and most of all you've been there to pick up the pieces when things didn't go right. Throughout my seventeen years you've been the most important force in my life. What I am today is because of you and I hope I will continue to make you proud. Thank you for all your comfort, encouragement, support, guidance, and above all, love. I LOVE YOU ALWAYS!

With all my love,
Your daughter, Heidi

Dear Heidi,

You are the best sister anyone could ever ask for! You helped me through so much... and I'm going to miss you.

I LOVE U!

Dear Gina,

When I look back at all the years gone by, I realize you are in all my memories. You're always there for me and that has meant so much to me. Our friendship is so strong, it will never be broken by any thing — what we have been through proves that. I cherish the times we've together and no matter how many miles are between us in the future, you will always be close to my heart. I love you

Nothing I could write in such a small space would express how much I cherish our friendship. No problem is too much to overcome — or could it make me turn from you — because that is not what a true friend does, under any circumstances. It's so hard to believe that our time together is so short now. You know I'll always be beside you if you need me and I know the same is true if I need you. What a great feeling true friendship is!"

It's going to be hard getting used to the fact that my "Irish twin" isn't going to be here to lean on when I think the world has come to an end or for me to tell how great my new boyfriend is or for me to talk to the whole night about failing math and how to tell Mom and Dad. Who am I going to borrow clothes from? Who else will put up with my endless hours of chatter and listen to every word of it? Thank God for Mr. Bell or I would be in total depression! If you ever need to talk don't hesitate to call, even collect. You are such a great sister and I love you very much. Good Luck in college and congratulations

We're not quite sure exactly what brought us together, but we do know what has happened ever since. We've not only become a couple, but we have become best friends. We've grown together, laughed together, and have been through everything together. During the rough times we faced each has stood by the other and helped the other make it through. The good times we've shared, we can look back on and feel good inside. And no matter what happens in the future, just remember

I'LL ALWAYS LOVE YOU.

Dearest Debbie,

For me, to look into your eyes is to know what love is. Their deep blue sparkle tells a story that words can't approach. On the day we met, I saw something special in you. That night in New York City I felt something I had never felt before. If there's such a thing as love at first sight then maybe that was it. As I'm writing this and picture your face I feel it again, though "you're so far away from me."

Here's to the future and the fortunes it will bring us both. May we see shooting stars in moonlit skies and travel around our world and beyond. For every day we've had together, may we have another year. I love ya babe ...

Your one and only wahoo,
Eric

Dear Karen,

We've come a long way since we first met. My love for you grows stronger every day Karen, you are a very special person in my life, and I hate to think what it would be like without you. I want you to know that I'll always be here for you whenever you need me.

Our Dearest Steph,

You are our pride and joy! We can't believe how fast these 17 years have flown by. Seeing you grow up from our little "Pebbles" to the beautiful young lady that you are today has been of the greatest joys of our lives. We wish you only the best of everything always. Remember, we will always be here for you.

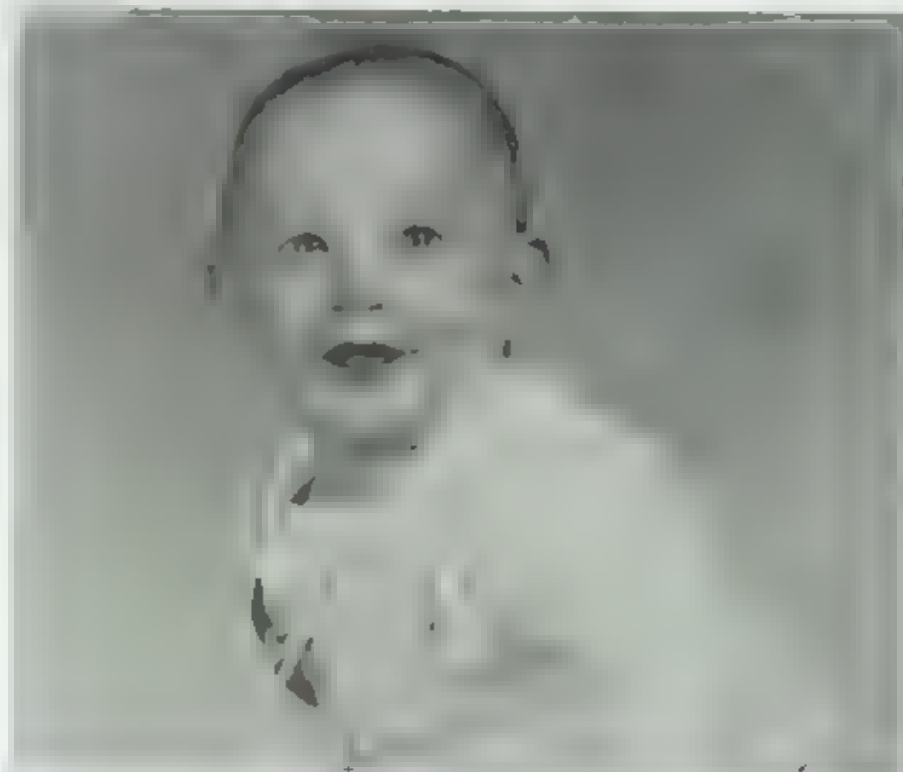

Love Always,

Steph —

You're the best sister anyone could have. I'm really going to miss you next year. Good Luck Always.

Love —
Brian

Our Dearest Fred,

As we look at you now
We've come to realize
That a man, not a boy
Stands before our eyes

The years have flown by
Faster than we care to know
But our love and pride in you
With each one did grow

From blocks and legos
And Little League Ball
Onto football and skiing
Then tennis became your all

You never wanted to be counted
among the rest —
You always strived and set your goals
Toward being the best

Your ambition and drive
Will carry you through
Be it school or sports
Any endeavor you set out to do.

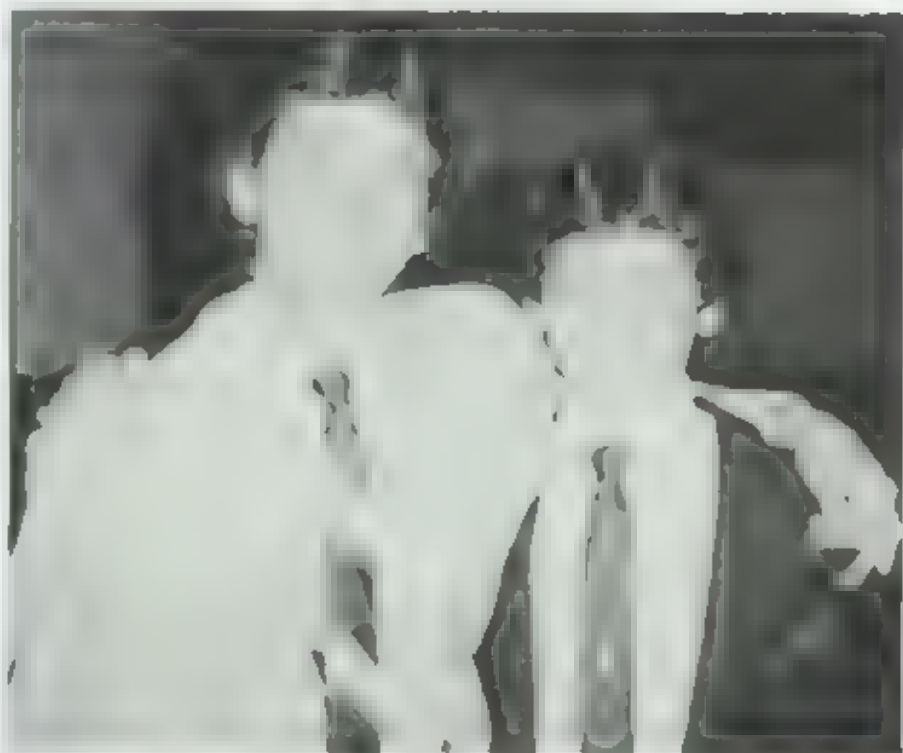

And if at times life's pressures
get to you,
Your sense of humor and quick wit will see you through

As parents we've tried to show you
To laugh and see the lighter side
And the importance of having
Friends and family at your side

Now as you travel
From one path to another
Remember how much you're loved,
admired and respected
By your Mom, Dad, and Brother!

You are a success! The future is yours!
Go for it!

Love Now and Forever,
Mom, Dad, & Big I

Dear Rayna,

Dear Carin —

We have always been very proud of your achievements. We know you will continue to strive for future success complete with health, peace, and happiness, and in turn all your dreams into realities.

We love you always,
Mom, Dad, and Jami

Mom and Dad, To the greatest parents anyone could ask for! Thank you for all the love, support and guidance you have given me through the years. Although I may not always show it, I love you, and I appreciate all that you have done for me. Thanks for always being there.

I love you —
Carin

To my big sister —
Thanx so much for helping me through those rough times! Now that you're away, our relationship had only become closer. I may not always show it, but you know I love you. You are the greatest and I'll always be here for you just like you are for me.

Love always —
Your little sister
P.S. — M — GO BLUE!

Dear Carin,

What can I say? My little sister is going to college. I can't believe it. I hope that you have as much fun, success, and happiness that I have had these past two years. Something tells me that you definitely will!

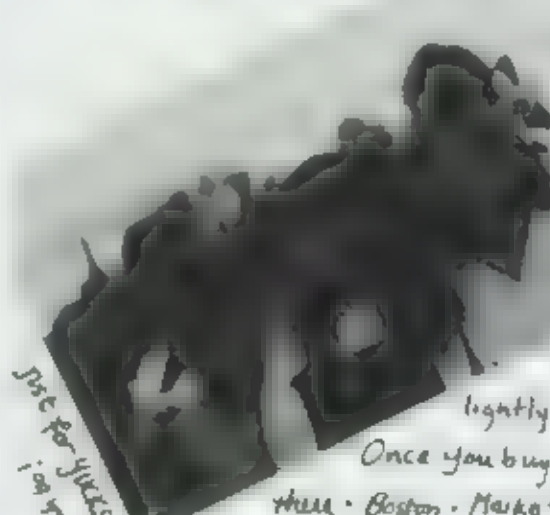

Good luck in everything you do; have the best time in college and remember that if you ever need me for anything ... I'll always be here for you!

I love you kid —
Jami

Susie, Mindy and Taffy

Well, I think we've made it through the roughest part of our relationship. We've made it through it all. You've been in our lives and supported me through everything. We don't know what would have happened without you. We love you so much. Thanks for always being here for me. As I will always be here for you.

I love you so much,
Bonnie

Mom and Dad,

I have so much to say in such a little bit of space. How can I thank you for all of the help, support, encouragement, and most of all love that you have given me? I can only say that you're the best parents in the whole world. I'm so glad you're who you are and have helped me to become a person of my own. Thanks for always being here for me. I could never have done it without you. I love you both so much. I'll ALWAYS be your little girl!

I love you,

I knew when I met you a bond had begun
Our two lonely souls would soon be as one
I'd searched all my life for one such as you
What I did to deserve you I haven't a clue
We've become so close that you've conquered my heart
No matter what distance we're never apart
A love like we share is not easily found
I can't imagine your not being around
You mean more to me than you ever will know
And I hope that together through life we will go
But whatever the future holds for our love
There will always be time when it's you I think of

I'll Love You Forever

The Best of Friends Forever

Dear Mom and Dad,

We've had good and bad times, but we made it through without a scratch. You have given me support when I needed it and comfort when I'm sad. I wouldn't be where I am now if you hadn't been here to guide me.

*Love always
and forever,

Debbie,

It started with a friendly "hello" that echoed through the next three years and now will endlessly reflect the rest of my life. We've gone through so much together and shared our deepest thoughts (no matter how strange they may have been). You've been such an important part of my life, you are always there when I need you. It's hard to sum up how much you mean to me in just a few words, but our memories of the past and the ones yet to come say it all!

I Love You,
Sonia

Sonia,

Since that first day in 9th grade English class, I knew you were special. We've come a long way in four years, and I know that as we continue to grow, so will our ever-lasting friendship. You have been more than what I can ask of a best friend, and are such an important part of my life. We've been together through tears and hysterics, and I'll always be there for you whether to be silly or lend a shoulder. Sonia, you are the one person who truly knows me inside and out, and I can always open up to you without fear. I know you will always understand, and I know you know I will always understand

You just call out my name
Debbie

P.S. Guess what?
I luv you!

What is there in the world?
Hear nothing ... See nothing
Think of nothing but ourselves.
No One seeing all the beauty we create,
We'll say how selfish we two are.

the noise, cries of joy or pain ... No matter who comes near, WE ARE

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF '86

SPRING VALLEY OPTICAL

David and Lisa Smith

Congratulations to the Class of '86
especially....

Cami, Alison, Robert
Steven and Heidi

Dear Amy,

Another milestone in your life has now been completed and we are proud of you. May your graduation be but the first step towards greater success in the future. We hope and pray that you grow and mature into a happy young woman who is able to achieve in life that which you truly want. May you find happiness and love forever.

We love you and are glad that you are ours.

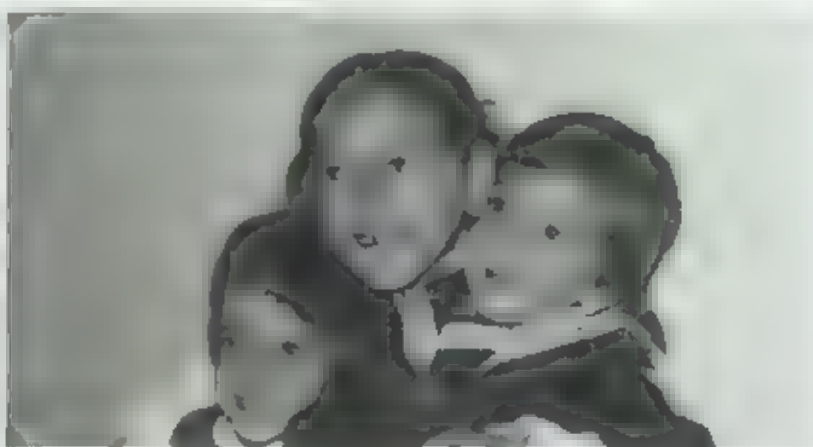

Mommy and Daddy

Dear Amy,

Through all the years, you've always been there. We don't know what we would do without you! You're an excellent sister and a terrific friend to us.

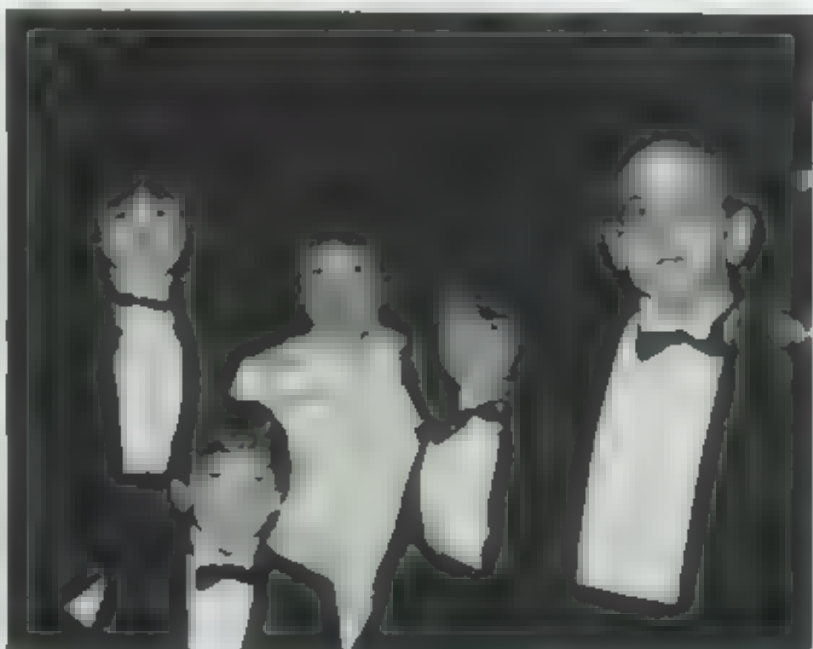

We love you,
Dana, Eddie, and Mindi

Dear Dana and Eddie,

"Dachshund collections go on forever, thank you." "Don't tell Mommy and Daddy I wrote on the basement wall." "I get Mindi tonight."

Many of my best times have been with you.
I love you both.
Your oldest sis,
Amy

Mommy and Daddy,

Thank you for supporting me through the good and the bad times. I've come a long way. I could never have done it without you.
I love you,
Amy

Mindi —
Where's Pookie?

Congratulations Dear Cindy,

You have lightened our lives with your cheery, sunny smile and caring sensitivity to others. Now we wish you love, laughter, and happiness to fill your life.

We love you!!

Love,

Mom & Dad

Jay, Alice, Nancy, Eddie, & Erik

To our son, Jeff,

We're so proud of you. May your future be filled with love and success

With all our love,

Mom and Dad

To Alfred,

We wish you success, good health, good and happiness'

Love,

Mom, Dad and Nadine

Dear Amy —

I know that whenever I need someone you'll always be there. I'll love you forever.

Doug

To our #1 cheerleader, Kerry,

You're a composite picture of giggles and tears,

Of tantrums, excitement,

amusement and fears.

Beautiful, bright,

mischievous and coy,

You're Mom's little darling

and Dad's pride and joy.

Congratulations.

Love,

Mommy, Daddy, Kelly, and Kevin

I'm glad both of you are my brother and sister. It's been fun growing up with you. Thanks for all the love you've given me.

Having a sister like you is like having a friend and a rainbow rolled into one. You always wanted a little sister and you got one. I love you so much. Thanks for always being there for me.

Love,
Eileen

We've fought a lot, but we still are close. You're a great brother. I said it, are you happy now? Believe it or not, I'll miss you.

Love,
Eileen

Mom, Dad,
Thanks for your support and love throughout the years. LOOK, I'VE MADE IT!! I'll love you always.

Love,
Eileen

FRIENDS FOREVER

The whole world is changing
Suddenly you're here
And my life's better than before
We're friends forever
Sharing everything together
Our understanding and just
How much the other cares.
We're friends forever
You know that's how I feel
We'll stick together
Please say we got a deal
We're friends forever
And when the rest are gone
It's you who will be there for me
My friend.

We have begun an unbreakable cycle
I was one and you were two
It started in Brooklyn, we were the Bock Bock Crew
Then one day you moved away
Tears filled my eyes, I wished you could stay
About a month later we moved too
As I was walking around the block I ran into you Ever since then our friendship has grown when I'm with you I never feel alone
The time has come for you to go
It will hurt so much because I love you so
A friendship like ours could never die
we're "BEST FRIENDS" forever

with vocabulary you really zing

High school days are winding down
Reflections will prevail
The last four years you set your goals
and came through with grades of gold

Wherever you go,
Please never forget
We'll love you forever
That's a sure bet!

Love,

High school made you come alive
In popularity you did thrive.

Your election to class pres. made us proud
We learned how you could stand out in a crowd

Your sense of humor can't be beat,
Your friends must find you such a treat.

Smiles light up when you walk in,
A talent that comes from within

The next four years are your biggest step,
But with all your talents, you're a smart money bet!

Love,

What makes us friends throughout the years
Regardless what we share,
the shadowed days that we must face,
Or when the skies are fair.

What makes us friends when circumstance
Decides that we must part;
Although our roads must separate
We're ever close in heart.

What makes us friends . . . God only knows
The answer to our quest . . .
So humbly we accept this gift
And know we're truly blessed

We grew up together, you and I eating rocks, making mud pies, staying out till morning broke,
 talking, laughing at each other's jokes;
 going swimming at the beach,
 always within each other's reach.
 You were always there to lend me a hand,
 to show me you care and understand;
 You helped me with problems at home or at school,
 You showed me the way, you taught me the rules.
 The time has come now for you to go,
 GOOD LUCK in college and always know —
 That this special bond we'll forever share
 FRIENDS, SISTERS, who constantly care!

I LOVE YOU,
 ALLYSON

DEAREST JENNIFER

Congratulations and best wishes
 Lots of hugs, loads of kisses
 As you celebrate graduation day,
 There's so much we'd like to say
 You've made us proud and happy too
 In everything you chose to do
 Now as you embark upon things new
 Just remember, our love goes with you
 "Bend and stretch, reach for a star,"
 And your dreams will take you far
 Cherish your friends, make many more,
 And 6 — Luv, 6 — Luv will be your score

ALL OUR LOVE
 MOM & DAD

"Keep smiling, keep shining, knowing you can always count on me, for sure. That's what friends are for. In good times and bad times, I'll be on your side forever more. That's what friends are for."

Friendships like these are too special to ever die.

Dear Tracey,

I wish you the best life has to offer. There is so much to say about what you've become. You were always thoughtful and caring and always there for me! More than a sister, and always a friend!"

Good Luck

Love,
Todd

To our very special daughter,

To Our Picasso:

Since we know you paint the best pictures in the world, we know your future will be beautiful and bright!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Amy & Jodie

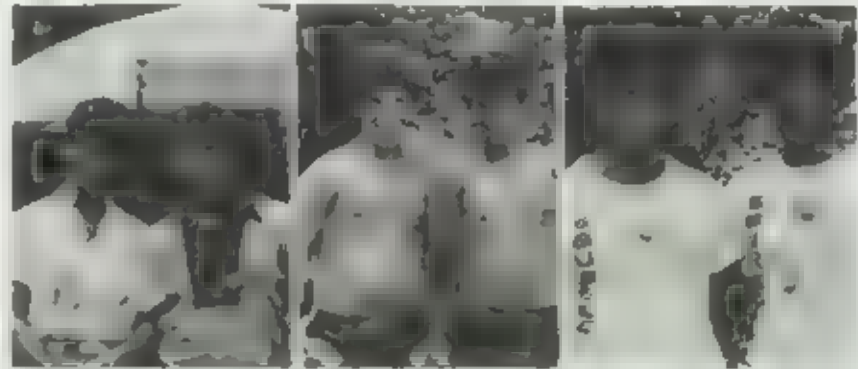

It kept us busy
To raise you two.
What one wouldn't Think of
The other would do.
You had us hopping
And gave us full measure.
But there's really no doubt
That you doubled our pleasure.

Dear Shari,

Wasn't it only yesterday
I held you in my arms
Keeping you safe and warm
and free from harm.
Wasn't it only yesterday I sent you off
I sent you off to school with your crayons, paint and scissors as your tools
Wasn't it only yesterday you lost
your first tooth, became a brownie, went on walkathons, had your first boyfriend, held your first job
On to college and all the tomorrows
I'm so proud of you and that will be forever.

SURVIVAL OF THE SPIRITED

Now that it's almost over it's time to look back . . . we weathered construction, parking lot woes, and loss of a library. But we survived — because we're North. Because we're spirited!

JUST REMEMBER '86 AS . . .

All of us constantly look toward the future — we wait — and wish for the things to come. We say — in a few days . . . in a few months . . . in a few years I'll . . .

I'll what?

I'll be a teenager . . . I'll get my license . . . I'll get a car

. . . I'll graduate . . .

"I'll . . ."

Always the future . . .

Always tomorrow . . .

Maybe this book has helped to capture a single

"Today" for you as you move towards your tomorrows . . .

UNMISTAKABLY NORTH!

WITH ALL THE POWER
THAT IS IN YOU
LOOK STRAIGHT AHEAD
TO THE FINISH LINE
THINK ONLY OF THE GOAL
RUN STRAIGHT
RUN HARD
SAVE NOTHING
AND FINISH

The Herff Jones Yearbook Company of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, 17325 printed the 900 copies of the 1986 SAGA. The 472 page hardcover book, was compiled by a staff of over 35 students. The publication was trimmed to 9 x 12 inches with a Smyth Sewn Rounded and Backed Binding and Silk Headbands. The stiff 160 point cover board features a Vista-Embossed cover application using Vibra-Tex cover material #41088 White with the design done in Gold Foil #F-2 and applied in #11 Purple Silkscreen Paint. The entire publication was printed on S.B. Warren's triple coated 80 pound Bordeaux paper stock except signature 9 which was printed on Colortext Yellow CX8 stock. The endsheets were printed in Herff Jones #600 Black Ink on 65 pound Colortext Stock #EX 12 using original student designed artwork. All copy was computer type set utilizing the Herff Jones Deluxe Type Format. 4-Color Process Printing was utilized in signatures 1, 2, 17, and 30 as well as the use of overprints, reverses, mortices, percentage screens, spot color and 1, 2, 4, 6, and 12 point rules throughout. Our Professional Photographer was Almar Studios of Spring Valley, N.Y. Our Herff Jones Representative and friend was Mr. Dale Alger of Bedford, N.Y.
